Washington, D. C.—Secretary Weeks Saturday told the house air craft committee that Brigadier General Mitchell, assistant army chief, had directly disobeyed President Coolidge's order in writing magazine articles without obtaining the approval of the war department.

The general, Mr. Weeks said, had the articles published without war department approval, despite the fact that President Coolidge had written him cautioning him against it.

Mr. Weeks explained he had issued the order regarding Mitchell after the secretary of navy had objected to the articles on the 1921 tests as "reflecting on the navy."

Then there was a case of muzzling, said Representative O'Sullivan, Democrat, Connecticut. "No it was not," answered the secretary.

"What was it?"

"He might have printed everything he wrote if it had been submitted."

"Then there is no muzzling."

"Didn't you tell General Mitchell you were going to remove him?" asked Representative Prall, Democrat, New York.

"I did not. I never told him anything of the kind."

"Didn't you threaten to order him away?"

"I did not."

The war secretary then added that neither he nor the president had the authority to make General Mitchell resign.

After the 1921 tests Mr. Weeks said the secretary of the navy objected to several articles written by the general, and in order to prevent further controversy with the navy he was ordered to submit further articles for approval.

Secretary Weeks added that he wished to state emphatically the war department had not "muzzled" either General Mitchell or any other officer to keep them from "telling the truth" to congressional committees. He read the war department order on that subject made public Friday and said if any officer did not know he was permitted to give his personal views he must be a timid soul.

"I wish to emphasize this point," he repeated, "as there is absolutely no basis for any charge of muzzling."

Madison—The assembly held a dull session Saturday in which it passed a few minor bills. It disregarded the unfavorable committee recommendations on the bill by William Olson to give humane officers police powers and ordered the measure engrossed.

The bill passed included:

Price, admitting wives, widows and mothers of Spanish American war veterans to the Wisconsin veterans home, Lawson, permitting trial of civil actions against motor transportation companies in any county in which it operates busses; Sellers, permitting payment of fire department service from the general fund of any town.

FRENCH CASINOS
HIT BY NEW TAXES
AS PROFITS GROW

Paris—France's gambling casinos made profits of 204,000,000 francs during 1924. It was announced in the chamber of deputies Friday when the house voted an amendment raising the percentage for the state treasury and municipalities from such profits from 25 per cent to 40 per cent.

Sponsoring the amendment Deputy Calais cited the case of the Biarritz casino, the profits of which amounted to 4,000,000 francs. He added that the pooled tips from players to employees reached 2,200,000 francs. Of this sum, he said, the proprietor of the Biarritz casino in contribution of the rules governing casinos in France, levied 50 per cent.

LONGWORTH WINS
SPEAKERSHIP OF
HOUSE IN CAUCUSJohn O. Tilson, Connecticut
Will Be Republican Floor
Leader

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Nicholas Longworth of Ohio will preside as speaker of the house in the sixty-ninth congress and John O. Tilson of Connecticut will be the Republican floor leader.

The present majority leader was selected by Republican members elected of the house in caucus Friday night as their candidate for speaker on the first ballot by a vote of 140 to 85. As the caucus decision binds the majority members to vote for the candidate when the house organizes and the Republicans have a clearcut majority his election to the speakership is certain.

Although a move, quickly squelched by opposition, was made to permit participation in the caucus of one of the dozen followers of Senator LaFollette, they were excluded and none of the group attempted to attend over the exclusion edict of Republican leaders. Representatives Lampert of Wisconsin and Keller of Minnesota were the two members for whom a move was made to restore them to good standing in party councils.

Other selections made by the caucus at which all but ten of the 234 Republicans qualified to attend, were present. Included Representative Sweet of New York as secretary, and Representative Vestal of Indiana as Republican whip for the post he now holds.

Democrats elected to the new house will caucus Saturday night to select their candidate for speaker, with Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the party leader, as the certain choice.

ACQUIT MUSCODA MAN OF SHOOTING NIGHT PROWLER

Lancaster, Wis.—Disturbances centering about the Ku Klux Klan at Muscoda, Grant county, last fall flared to an anti-climax in circuit court here Friday, when Plank Groves, Muscoda merchant, was found not guilty by a jury on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm in connection with the shooting of Leo Manning.

Manning, according to the testimony, was wounded by a charge of buckshot fired by Groves, when the latter intercepted what he described as an attempt to get five to a refreshment stand which had been set up on a vacant lot adjoining the Groves store.

DICKINSON FARM BILL
CLEVER CAMOUFLAGE.
CHAIRMAN CAREY SAYS

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The Dickinson cooperative farm marketing bill submitted by the house for the Capper-Haugen bill was described Saturday by Chairman Carey of the president's agricultural conference as the "cleverest piece of camouflage ever drawn."

He said it was drawn by Henry C. Taylor, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics who he said, was an antagonist of the conference and would stir up "some of the greatest fights ever seen in Washington." If it were enacted into law.

The Dickinson bill would propose to extend aid to farmers without the regulatory provision of the Capper-Haugen measure.

"It will be just a step toward killing anything that may be done in the future," Chairman Carey declared.

The bureau of agricultural economics which will be given all power by this bill has this power now. The bill merely provides two junks annually to Washington for 50 members of an advisory council. They will be paid $25 a day on these trips. The bill also gives four other men $10,000 a year to give advice which the head of the bureau of agricultural economics can veto.

That the hour's discussion between Mr. Daeschner and the secretary Friday involved no definite or formal proposals on the debt question was made clear both by treasury officials and at the French embassy. It was represented simply as affording opportunity to the new ambassador to conversations between his predecessor, Mr. Jusserand and Mr. Mellon and to obtain the treasury's viewpoint on the situation.

BORAH BLOCKS MOVE TO ADHERE TO WORLD COURT

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Adherence of the United States to the world court came up in the senate Friday night but was put aside so quickly that few senators realized the subject had been broached.

When the court proposal of Senator Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, was reached on the calendar, Senator King, Democrat, Utah, suggested the objection he had made against its consideration would be withdrawn "if the original Harding plan is substituted."

"Not my objection," interjected Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee, and the proposal went back to the calendar.

LAFOLLETTE AIDES
ON BOTTOM OF LISTCommittee on Committees Assigns Minor Positions to Bobsaats

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—As a further in denying Republican party status to the senate to Senator LaFollette and his chief supporters the Republican committee on committees has tentatively assigned the Wisconsin senator together with Senators Brookhart of Iowa and Ladd and Frazier of North Dakota, to places at the bottom of the list on committees of which they hold membership. The action which was taken Friday over the written protest of the three senators who supported the LaFollette ticket in the presidential campaign would give them the same committee status as though elected on an independent instead of the Republican ticket. Senator LaFollette himself has made no reply to the committee letter asking in the case of each senator whether they desire of the Democrats or Republicans to make their committee assignments.

The committee's action is subject to approval first by the Republican party conference to be held early next month and later by the senate itself. Although some opposition is expected at both stages administration leaders object that they can carry out their programs. Democratic leaders have made it known that the minority intends to throw no obstacle in the way of organization of the senate by Republicans by seeking any coalition with the insurgent forces at the special session called for next Wednesday.

Jefferson—A fine of $1,000 was chosen in preference to spending a year in jail by Wilbur Moore, farmer and nurseman, living two miles northeast of here, at whose place the sheriff's force seized more than 200 gallons of cider and wine a short time ago.

Moore pleaded guilty to possession and sale of liquor and was given six months or $500 fine on each of the two counts.

This is the stiffest fine ever given a first offender in this county, officials state.

Coolidge Is Puzzled as to Action on Increase for
CongressBY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C.—Postal employees may rejoice—their raise in pay is assured.

Members of congress and the president's cabinet cannot rejoice—at least not yet—for Mr. Coolidge hasn't made up his mind as yet what to do about their pay increases.

Talking with some of the members of the cabinet after Friday's meeting the writer learned that they had not been consulted by the president about the bill. It had been referred to the budget bureau and is back on the president's desk. The cabinet members who were interviewed said that if they had the task to do they would recommend a veto of the bill on the ground of economy and that the cabinet did not request the president to send it back vetoed, the president could ignore the provisions relating to increase in pay for congressmen and senators leaving it to congress to re-pass the legislative appropriation bill over his veto with the objectionable provisions eliminated.

This would place the matter wholly in the discretion of congress and if a record vote were forced as would be likely on a bill of this kind the chances of defeating an amendment eliminating the congressional pay increase would be slight. The whole trick however is to defeat such an amendment by an oral vote without actually recording each senator or representative.

COOLIDGE PUZZLED

The opinion obtained by this correspondent at executive quarters is that the president is literally puzzled. His cabinet associates think that in view of his general economy program he has no choice but to veto the bill. Others have said to him that he ought not intrude on what is strictly a congressional matter though they have conceded that it is a defeat such an amendment by an oral vote without actually recording each senator or representative.

The postal pay bill has had hard sledding. All sorts of obstacles have been put in the way of its passage but now the measure at last has gone through conference and is ready for action by the president. Mr. Coolidge realizes that the bill doesn't quite satisfy from a revenue standpoint the needs of the treasury in paying for the postal employees, increase but it nearly does. At least the measure is not open to the same objection as the one he vetoed which appropriated $60,000,000 without showing from what source the funds were to come. It would have had to be borne by the general taxpayers.

The new bill provides various increases in postal rates but at best they are approximate and they may provide more revenue than is estimated. Mr. Coolidge has been urged to sign the measure on the ground that within a year a further study of rates will have been made and adjustments can be made to meet any deficits. He will therefore sign the measure.

Berlin—Friedrich Ebert, the first president of the German Republic, died at 10:15 Saturday morning from peritonitis which followed an operation for appendicitis five days ago.

The former saddlemaker, whose skill in guiding the infant republic through the first turbulent years of its existence was acknowledged even by his bitter enemies made a gallant fight for life, but his system had been undermined by an attack of influenza before the operation and his heart was not equal to the burden imposed by the poison which had spread throughout his system.

Around his bedside when the end came were his wife, three daughters, Amalia, and her husband, Dr. Wilhelm Jaenecke and their son to survive the war, Frederick II, State Secretary Meissner, was the only other person present aside from the doctors and nurses.

Lanphier, commander of the First Army pursuit group of 12 airplanes attempting a dawn to dusk flight from Selfridge Field, Mich., where near zero weather prevailed early Saturday, to sunny Miami, Florida, necessitated postponement of the flight Saturday.

Shortly before 10 o'clock mechanics got the motor in Major Lanphier's ship started after they had installed a new magnet and the major said they probably would proceed, going as far as they could before darkness. He said they do not expect to reach Miami Saturday owing to the delay encountered here.

One accident marred the arrival of the fliers at this field at 7:15 A. M. one hour and 41 minutes after they started. While attempting to land the ship piloted by Lieutenant E. C. Whitehead struck a rut and three men and the plane were severely injured and injured when an overheated stove exploded and set fire to their home Friday.

The purpose of the flight, according to Major Lanphier, is to demonstrate the ability of the pursuit troop formation as a fighting unit in severe winter weather as well as in summer weather within a twelve hour period.

The baby was struck by pieces of water pipe which were blown from the stove. Mrs. Terry and the son reported recovering at a hospital. Heroic work of Joseph Dunham, who was passing the house, resulted in the saving of Mrs. Terry's life. He arrested her efforts to re-enter the house after she had saved the boy, going into the burning building himself and bringing out the infant daughter.

The baby died a few minutes later. The fire and explosion caused $2,000 damage and ignited a house next door, causing $300 damage there.

CAL FINISHES JOB OF SELECTING MEN FOR HIS CABINET

Confirmation of Warren as Attorney General Still in Doubt

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—It was the Senate confirmation of the cabinet of President Coolidge, which will have been completed that President Coolidge will take into office with him on March 4.

Frank B. Kellogg and William M. Jardine are also yet to be confirmed respectively as secretaries of state and of agriculture, but it is understood they will be no opposition to either of them.

Warren may have to wait until after noon on March 4 for his confirmation. If the Democrats and Progressives, combined, stand pat, they can beat him in the present Senate.

President Coolidge, however, already has called the extra session of the new one, which it is customary to hold directly after an inauguration for the special purpose of confirming new appointments, such as an incoming chief executive usually has to announce and wants acted on as promptly as possible.

This is not to be confused with a regular extra session of Congress. Only the Senate meets and it can transact only such business as can be disposed of without the acquiescence of the House.

REPUBLICAN MAJORITY
At this Senate extra session there will be a clear Republican majority and it is a foregone conclusion that it will vote favorably on the Warren appointment.

The cabinet, then, from March 4 will consist of:
Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state.
Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury.

John W. Weeks, secretary of war.
Charles B. Warren, attorney general.
Harry S. New, postmaster general.
Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the interior.

William M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture.
Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce.
James J. Davis, secretary of labor.

However, this is not the cabinet the president is expected to have by Jan. 1, 1926.

MORE RESIGNATIONS LIKELY
Secretaries Weeks, Work and Davis are expected to retire in the early summer. Postmaster New and Secretary Wilbur probably will do so before the end of the year.

Secretaries Kellogg, Mellon and Hoover and Attorney General Warren, barring unforeseen accidents, unquestionably will hold their portfolios throughout President Coolidge's term. Secretary Jardine's tenure will depend on the qualities he shows and perhaps, to some extent, on luck.

His job, just at this time, is recognized as the most difficult and ticklish that any of the presidential advisors are required to hold down.

Agricultural conditions are in such a ferment that the department head who has to deal with them must have, not only extraordinary ability, but the "breaks" as well, if he is to last long.

WANT ASSISTANT TO AID PROSECUTOR

DeFeo—A petition is being circulated in DeFeo today in which the signers ask the Municipal court to appoint special counsel to assist District Attorney Raymond E. Byard in the prosecution of the cases against W. E. Chalmers and Louis Boehm in connection with the death of Miss Martha Marshall in the recent motor car collision and near DeFeo.

The petition cites that the county board in fixing the salary of the district attorney does not take into consideration the handling of cases in which such extensive preparation is required to properly prosecute, and furthermore in justice to the district attorney such counsel should be allowed him.

The petitioners who are responsible for the petition do not mean to reflect in any way on the ability of the district attorney, they point out but simply feel the case is of such importance that legal talent of the highest standing should work with Mr. Byard in the handling of this matter.

G. O. P. Worried Over Next Election Of Congressmen

BY HARRY B. HUNT
Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—Consider how badly the Democrats were beaten in the last presidential election, it may seem as if there can be no justification whatever for the hopes their leaders express of gaining control of Congress next year.

Yet Democratic politicians are sincere in the confident predictions they make. That's more, the Republicans are a little anxious.

And on second thought it becomes apparent that this naturally follows from the very fact of the last election's one-sidedness.

The Democrats already have lost about all they possibly can lose and the situation changes at all from their standpoint it is bound to change for the better.

The Republicans at present hold not only all the normally Republican seats in Congress, but a good many that are normally Democratic, so from their standpoint there, hardly can be any change which isn't for the worse.

The Senate illustrates this better than the House, because the former is a smaller body and only a third of its members' terms expire at a time.

On March 3, 1927, then, the terms of Senators Broussard of Louisiana, Caraway of Arkansas, Fletcher of Florida, George of Georgia, Overman of North Carolina, Smith of South Carolina and Underwood of Alabama will expire.

All these are Democrats and all are sure of re-election, or if any of them should be retired, other Democrats would be elected in their places. No politician of either party looks for any such miracle as the victory of a Republican senatorial candidate in any of those states.

Also on March 3, 1927 the terms will expire of Senators Bingham of Connecticut, Cameron of Arizona, Cummings of Iowa, Curtis of Kansas, Dale of Vermont, Ernst of Kentucky, Gooding of Idaho, Harrell of Oklahoma, Jones of Washington, La Follette of Wisconsin, Lusk of North Dakota, Lenroot of Wisconsin, McKinley of Illinois, Means of Colorado, Moses of New Hampshire, Neade of South Dakota, Odell of Nevada, Pepper of Pennsylvania, Shortridge of California, Smoot of Utah, Spencer of Missouri, Stanfield of Oregon, Wadsworth of New York, Watson of Indiana, Weller of Maryland and Willis of Ohio.

These are Republicans and everybody knows that Arizona, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Missouri and Maryland are Democratic a good deal often than they are Republican states.

So there are five Senate seats to begin with, that the Democrats are hopeful of, and the Republicans worried about.

The Democrats lay claim also to Connecticut, New York, Indiana and Ohio.

As to Connecticut, this claim probably is pretty thin, but Indiana and Ohio are at least doubtful chronically and Gov. Alf Smith's influence unquestionably will weigh heavily in Republican favor, especially if he should make the senatorial run himself.

STATE REPUBLICANS MEET IN OSHKOSH

More than a score of Appleton Republicans will go to Oshkosh Monday to attend the statewide Republican conference. It is expected that the meeting will draw a large attendance from all over the Fox river valley.

The 17th Infantry military band of Oshkosh has been engaged to open the meeting at 10 o'clock in the morning with a concert, and it will play again at noon. The sessions will be held in Armory B. The principal address will be delivered by Gov. Edwin F. Morgan of Kentucky, a member of the United States railway labor board.

The purpose of the conference is to remobilize the state forces of the regular Republicans and form a permanent organization.

DEDICATE GREEN BAY Y. M. C. A. NEXT FALL

Dedication of new Green Bay Y. M. C. A. will be held in conjunction with the state convention of the association which is scheduled for Green Bay this year, according to a letter received by George F. Werner, general secretary of Appleton Y. M. C. A. The dates are Sept. 4, 5 and 6. Several men prominent in national and international Y. M. C. A. work are to be speakers. A large delegation is planning to attend from this city.

Because the tenth anniversary of the local association will be celebrated this fall an effort is being made by the committee in charge to set the date of this program as close as possible to the state convention dates. If this can be accomplished the nationally famous association workers who speak at Green Bay will be brought to Appleton.

The open house program of the mens' division of the Y. M. C. A. which was scheduled for Saturday evening, will be postponed, according to C. L. Boynton, activities secretary, who is in charge of the programs. The motion pictures, which have been the major part of the program, cannot be shown due to a break in machine. The meetings probably will be resumed next Saturday.

FIREMEN EXTINGUISH ANOTHER ROOF FIRE

Appleton firemen responded to an alarm at 4:50 Friday evening to extinguish a roof fire at the home of Mrs. Joseph Chenevert, 228 N. Lawrence. It was the third roof fire in two days and like the others was caused by sparks from the chimney. The blaze caused little damage.

RELIGIOUS SURVEY WILL BE STARTED

Better Cities Contest Committee Will Ascertain Extent of Church Activity

An Appleton religious survey will be started at once by the religious committee of the better cities contest which made its plans at a meeting in the chamber of commerce office Friday night.

Each church will be asked to fill out a questionnaire issued by the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work, Madison, covering this phase of community life. The committee has sent for the blanks and will place them in the hands of the pastors as soon as they arrive.

The questionnaire will show the size and value of each church property in the city and the arrangement of the building to show how many members it will accommodate and how extensive a program of activities can be carried on there. Statistics also will be given as to membership, the amount of money contributed and the sum spent in each parish.

All this data will be compiled into a general report showing Appleton's religious inventory and the extent to which this form of community work is being utilized to make the city a better place to live.

Only part of the committee was able to attend the meeting Friday night. Those present were: The Rev. J. L. Menzies, chairman, representing the German Methodist church; John Morgan, St. Mary's church; C. O. Davis, First Methodist; Hugh G. Corbett, First Congregational; Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, Adventist.

TAX EXPERT WANTS MORE WORK TO DO

The federal income tax office in the city hall which has been unoccupied for three months, has again come to life since the arrival of H. L. Goodrich, a field representative of the Milwaukee office of the internal revenue service. But although Mr. Goodrich has been here for nearly a week the demand for help in making out returns has not been as heavy as was expected. Thus far the visits have totaled 20 to 25 a day. It is feared that the last week before the final day will find the office so congested that it will be impossible for the revenue man to serve all that come for help. Mr. Goodrich suggests that in order to save time the inquirer try to fill out as much of the return as possible and also to group the figures before coming to the office. The last day for filing returns is Mar. 15, but it will be better for both parties if the returns are made as soon as possible.

A hammer glanced off from a chisel which he was holding, breaking the eye socket. He probably will be confined in the hospital for a week or ten days longer.

ENGLUND WON'T ADD TO COLLECTION OF LAWS IN WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis.—Senator Howard Teasdale of Sparta, with 25 bills, holds the record for the number of bills introduced in the state senate during the present session.

Senator Max Heck, Racine, is second with 20 bills. The number offered by the others include: J. C. Schuman, Watertown, 16; W. A. Titus, Fond du Lac, Harry Southoff, Madison, and J. Fanning, Milwaukee, eleven each; Bengtson, Gottleman, Milwaukee, ten, and J. L. Barber, Marathon, nine.

Senator John Englund, Wittenburg, has a unique record. He has introduced no bills or resolutions and has not made a speech on the floor so far this session. He says he believes there are enough laws on the statute books and his time is best devoted to the elimination of many "useless laws" and the correcting of others. He is a member of the committee on corporations and taxation. The assembly record for the number of bills has not been compiled.

WAUPACA COUNCIL OPPOSED TO TAX OFFER OF BANKS

Refuses to Accept Compromise at Half of Amount Usually Paid City

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca—At a special meeting Thursday night to discuss payment of taxes on bank stock by the local banks, the city council decided to reject any compromise offered by the banks. The banks offered to pay the tax one year in return for exemption this year, making the proposition a "50-50" deal.

The fire department responded twice to an alarm at the Herman Feller residence, Badger and Jefferson-sts., Friday morning. Burning out of the chimney was the cause. However, no damage was done and the firemen returned to their headquarters without causing any damage by water.

Waupaca's dog population is setting a low record this year. To date only 72 dogs have been licensed. Saturday was the last day on which the city clerk would receive the tax. After that the district attorney will collect. Other taxes were coming in at a rapid rate on Friday and Saturday. About $30,000 remained to be collected out of a total of $10,000.

MARTIN WILL SPEAK

County Judge W. H. Martin will address a community meeting at the Congregational church in New London Sunday evening, March 1.

Miss Nettie Johnson, chief operator at the local exchange attended a telephone meeting at Oshkosh Thursday.

A return wrestling match between Hills and Romanoff will be staged at the armory Tuesday night, March 3. The last time these men met Hills secured the third and deciding fall. To the fans at the ringside not familiar with the rules there was some doubt as to the fairness of the referee's decision. Romanoff lost the deciding fall while he was in possession of a punishing toe hold. The clever Hills, however, saw an opportunity to tilt his powerful opponent upon his back and in doing so landed Romanoff squarely for the deciding fall.

Wrestling bouts staged here this winter have pleased the fans and much interest has been aroused in matches between local boys. Bob McLaughlin is fast becoming a favorite. Any time he appears upon the card it means all seats are occupied before his appearance. Other excellent preliminaries are being arranged, the first starting at 8:30.

CARNIVAL IS HELD

The winter carnival at the armory staged by the National guards opened Thursday night and as an added inducement to the public to attend the doors were thrown open and admission was free. Friday night the Central Wisconsin college presented an excellent musical program and Saturday night a big masked ball is to be given. Proceeds of the affair are to be used as a mass fund next summer when the company goes to Camp Douglas for the annual encampment.

Thursday afternoon Attorney W. H. Foucar moved into his new offices in the building purchased by him at 302 N. Main-st. Mr. Foucar formerly occupied offices in the Lord-bldg. In his present location he will share half the building with F. L. Taylor, an insurance agent.

Methodist circle No. 2 met at the home of Mrs. Roy Holly Friday afternoon. Mrs. Oscar Larson is leader of this circle. Circle No. 1 had a meeting at the same time and enjoyed picnic lunch in the church parlors.

Circle No. 3 was also meeting at the same time at the home of Mrs. L. A. Larson, State-st., with Mrs. Mihus as leader.

Tuesday, March 3 the Ladies union of the Baptists church will meet with Mrs. E. E. Jordan, State-st.

and called my bondage freedom. I wore my badge of servitude with unholy pride. But when he came and spoke to me, my lost inheritance dawned upon my wandering eyes. But his was the glorious mission not only to awake but to emancipate, not only to unveil lost splendor but to recover it. He came to set us free and if the Son shall make you free ye shall be free indeed."

URGE QUICK ACTION TO SAVE LANDS FOR MENOMINEE INDIANS

Menominees Will Suffer Same Fate as Oneidas if Bill Passes Congress

The Oneida Indians are held up as an example of what will happen to the Menominee Indians if Bill H. R. 6869, providing for allotment of the Menominee reservation, Shawano-co. is successful in congress.

This bill must be defeated in the senate if the Menominees are to escape poverty and demoralization as a tribe and individuals. Workers in Indian welfare assert that the Menominee reservation, Shawano-co. is successful in congress.

This bill must be defeated in the senate if the Menominees are to escape poverty and demoralization as a tribe and individuals. Workers in Indian welfare assert that the Menominee reservation, Shawano-co. is successful in congress.

"The Indians Defense association points out that the Oneida reservation in Wisconsin has been lost to the Indians through land allotment. It was allotted in 1893. Before the trust period expired in 1918, approximately 80 per cent of the Indians had been given deeds to their farms and had already lost them. They were not prepared for individual responsibility and their lands slipped away."

The foregoing quotation is from a statement issued by Mrs. Stella Atwood, Riverside, Calif., chairman of Indian welfare, General Federation of Women's club. The bill authorizes the secretary of the interior to confiscate any timber land on the reservation; to reserve from allotment land for reforestation, for mission societies, for town sites. This land can be disposed of at the discretion of the secretary. Each Indian is to receive 10 acres, to be held in trust for 25 years by the Indian bureau, but the secretary may issue patents in fee simple or deeds before the expiration of the trust period.

KAUKAUNA YOUTH STARS AS SINGER

Isadorth Norton of Kaukauna, a student at Northwestern university at Evanston, Ill., has been awarded a silver "N" for his work on the university glee club, according to word received by friends and relatives at Kaukauna on Friday. Mr. Norton was chosen as leading first tenor in open competition with other candidates recently by a committee of the music school faculty and was a member of the Northwestern Glee club which, with four of the school's best swimmers, took a 7,000 mile trip through the west during February appearing in Omaha, Salt Lake City, Lincoln, Hastings, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Portland, San Francisco and several other large western cities. The group of which Mr. Norton is a member is one of the few organizations to appear in concert in the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, and is one of the few singing organizations which conducts its program without a director and unaccompanied.

Mr. Norton is a junior at Northwestern and will study medicine at John Hopkins University when he graduates. He is the holder of the honorary Colonial Dame scholarship for Illinois for 1925-26 and is chairman of the University settlement work.

JULY 1, 1919 LAST DAY FOR COMPENSATION CREDIT

Time served between April 7, 1917, and July 1, 1919, only can be counted by ex-service men applying for adjusted compensation, according to information received here from James F. Burns, state service officer of the American Legion, Milwaukee. Many men have believed they are entitled to adjusted compensation credit for the time served after July 1, 1919.

Mr. Burns says he has received numerous complaints from veterans who believe they are not receiving full service credit. The majority of these complaints, he declares, are due to the counting of days in service after July 1, 1919.

The adjusted compensation act allows credit for service only between April 7, 1917 and July 1, 1919.

ITINERANT TEACHER STARTS WORK IN 2 WEEKS

Another interesting part of WOC's program will be a one-hour musical program at 9 o'clock consisting of selections by Erwin Swindell, versatile pianist; May Chambers, soprano; Emil Haas, reader. KDKA's Saturday evening program consists of selections by the Westinghouse Band and an hour of fun by Richard the Riddler. WBZ and KYW present fine Saturday evening features also.

TRADE SCHOOL HELPS GIRLS GET STARTED

Two girls who have been students at Appleton Vocational school for the last two years and have had one year of high school training, have been placed in the Outagamie County rural training school at Kaukauna by Miss Christine Dorr, who is in charge of the girls work at the local school. It is the aim of the vocational school to learn the interests of the boys and girls in attendance and, so far as is possible, assist them in being placed. In the survey made recently the two girls said they wanted to be teachers and immediately their courses were checked up, with the result that they were enrolled in the county school by Miss Dorr. Their high school and vocational school credits were compiled and they received special training, and after attending summer school at Oshkosh Normal school for a few years along with the training school work, they will be able to teach in city schools.

Other girls who desired to become nurses were recently placed in training in the Clark hospital at Neenah, and still others were placed in a local dressmaking shop.

THE STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION
The hand of super-progress, which threatened another settled institution of Wisconsin, created by the way by Senator La Follette, has been stayed at the eleventh hour. On the recommendation of Governor Blaine a movement was started in the legislature to do away with the two ex-officio members of the state highway commission. It was originally intended to incorporate this proposal in the state highway bill, passed by the senate this week, but it was omitted for fear that it might result in defeating the measure which appropriates a large sum for the highways. A separate bill was then introduced to cover the same purpose, but a few days ago it was withdrawn by its author, so that for the present the scheme seems to have been dropped. The ex-officio members of the highway commission are the dean of the university and the state geologist. In his message to the legislature Governor Blaine said:

I recommend that the law be repealed providing for the ex-officio members of the highway commission. The ex-officio members are appointed by educational boards. Just what relationship there is in administration between highways and the university, I am unable to perceive. The ex-officio members, in practical administration, are responsible to no one.

This is equivalent to saying that trained men are not required in the prosecution of public works and in the handling of public undertakings. Certainly the construction of highways is an engineering problem. If we had had more good engineering in the original improvement of our roads there would have been fewer replacements and fewer mistakes.

It is to be presumed that the dean of the engineering college of the university knows something about engineering and incidentally its relation to road building. Even if an expert of this character, competent to preside over the university school of engineering, had never seen a highway it would not take him long to grasp the facts pertaining to highway construction and adapt his technical knowledge to planning and building in a scientific manner. The same is true of the state geologist. He understands soil in all its bearings upon road construction and undoubtedly his advice and judgment are of value.

When the governor of a state makes the declaration that he is "unable to perceive what relationship there is in administration between highways and the university," it reflects at best want of appreciation of educational and technical training.

Fortunately the proposal to abolish the ex-officio memberships of the highway commission resulted in such widespread disapproval that the legislature appears to have deserted the governor's recommendation, which obviously was to make the highway commission a political body.

Wisconsin in a few years has built up a wonderful system of roads. They are not surpassed anywhere and this has been done under the administration of the state highway commission as it now exists. Were the legislature to see fit to coincide with the views of Governor Blaine in the reorganization of the highway commission, it would be a most ill-considered and stupid step.

THE INDIANA LEGISLATIVE REVOLT
They say that everything is fair in love, war and politics. If that is true, the Democrat members of the Indiana legislature who bolted and fled to Ohio had as much justification for their course as did the Republican majority in attempting to pass a gerrymander which threatened to take a congressional district away from their opponents.

The old third district in Indiana has been a Democratic stronghold from time immemorial. It was one of the spots in Indiana that the Republicans could not cope with or make any inroads upon. It was as certain to go Democratic as Texas. Indiana has had a number of experiences with gerrymanders. It is a trick resorted to by both parties for many years in an endeavor to control this highly doubtful state. It is also a two-edge sword and cuts both ways, but in late years such political methods have not been in as good repute as in former years.

When the Democrats were confronted with the possibility of having the third district stronghold wrested from their control they used the only means open, that is, they absented themselves from the legislature to prevent a quorum. The incident is more humorous than serious, for while they were technically open to a charge in which they could be fined, they were engaged in defending themselves against an obvious wrong and that always minimizes an offense. It is significant that the Republican machinery was the one to capitulate and not the insurrectionists.

PULLER HAS NO PULL
Pete McDonough, San Francisco bail-bond broker and general go-between for the underworld, recently imprisoned for bootlegging, has just been refused a pardon by the president.
On its face, this seems unimportant. There are thousands of bootleggers, and most of them are not pardoned.
But McDonough's case raised a larger issue. He had "pull," and his petition was signed by nearly all the influential politicians in San Francisco.
If he was not guilty, of course he should have been pardoned regardless of petition.

The real question was whether political pull could override the due processes of law.
And this was important, not merely on general principles, but for its effect on an important problem of Americanization.
Those with whom McDonough and his kind deal are largely immigrants, whose contact with American law is practically confined to the times when their friends get into the police courts.

McDonough was western leader of those who sell them bail, and pretend to sell them "influence." Now that influence has been shown powerless to save even its owner.

Some will draw from it no more moral than that "Pete has lost his pull."
But others, let us hope, will learn that there is no place in American institutions for that sort of "influence."

That is a more important lesson in Americanization than any amount of saluting the flag.

PRESIDENT NOT A CIRCUS
President Coolidge wants no fuss about his inaugural, but he does propose to make trips around the country, to get acquainted with the people, and to let them get acquainted with him.

It is, of course, the best possible way to bring the people and the president into personal touch, and that is a good thing to do.
But let us take warning. We have literally killed the last two presidents by the way we "entertained" them.

Roosevelt's life was shortened partly by the same thing.
Garfield and McKinley were sacrificed to our imitation-democratic accessibility of the president.

Harrison was not physically killed, but his temper was spoiled.
President Coolidge fortunately, is young, strong and cool. He will survive our worst. But he should be spared it.
The president has to be a show, but he does not have to be a circus. Especially, he does not have to be subjected to the ambition of seven million people to see him separately and personally, one at a time.

Things change. And deciding what is right or wrong is like writing the time of day on a piece of paper so you will always have it.

The end frequently justifies the means, but with bootleg booze the means may justify the end.

The men who wonder why he doesn't fall in love haven't the heart to do it.

Spend your days just killing time and time will kill you.

Health Talks

WALK AND SAVE YOUR LIFE.
Our steadily increasing girth, and perhaps, after all, the trend of evolution, the survival of the fittest. Certainly, the pedestrian today should be equipped with substantial front and rear bumpers. Dr. Henry K. Mohler, reporting observations in a series of 46 cases of hypertension (excessive blood pressure) and hyperglycemia (an excessive proportion of sugar in the blood), says that the study of cases of high blood pressure and nephritis (Bright's disease) not uncommonly reveals hyperglycemia and perhaps also glycosuria (sugar in the urine). These patients ranged from 30 up to 70 years of age, and all had a systolic pressure exceeding 150 millimeters of mercury, and 45 of the 46 patients were overweight; 36 of them had weighed more than 200 pounds at some time or other.

Obesity, Dr. Mohler remarks, which frequently favors the development of scientific change (that is, practically premature aging), results at times in a rise in blood pressure and a diminishing ability of the body cells to utilize carbohydrates.
Carbohydrates include all the starchy foods and the sugars. They are the most essential foods for men. They furnish the greater part of the fuel constantly used to maintain the vital functions.
The normal proportion of sugar in the blood varies from the minimum of 0.08 per cent perhaps in the early morning before breakfast, to the maximum of 0.14 per cent after a hearty meal or a chocolate fudge sundae. The figure of 0.14 per cent is considered the arbitrary standard for health. When the proportion exceeds 0.15 per cent some of the sugar is generally excreted in the urine, even though the individual be perfectly healthy. Almost any one can achieve a passing glycosuria by gorgeing on candy or potatoes or bread, and carefully avoiding muscular work, play or exercise to burn any of the overplus of fuel. A lot of the easy class of people—easy to get along with, easy to impose upon and easy to kill—ultimately achieve a chronic glycosuria in just that way, eating regularly, heartily, sociably or hurriedly, and then just sitting around so there won't be any draft for the vital fire, or riding to keep the metabolism in abeyance.

This high tension associated with hyperglycemia and obesity is not so much a feature of diabetes as it is of obesity. The blood pressure in diabetic individuals is not always high and is influenced by other factors than the diabetes itself. Nor is the blood pressure necessarily high in arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries). It is found normal or below normal in 50 per cent of persons with arteriosclerosis.

So you see we can't draw any cut and dried conclusions or inferences from the association of hypertension with hyperglycemia and obesity. But we can point a health moral. First, just for worry's sake, let us quote two more sentences from Dr. Mohler's observations.

"Degenerative changes that take place in the body, when affecting the structures involved in carbohydrate metabolism, of necessity must impair their efficiency and result in hyperglycemia and glycosuria. Obesity frequently favors the development of these degenerative changes in the body, which are capable of producing an increase in the blood pressure and a diminished ability of the body cells to utilize carbohydrate."

In other words, one can eat enough to reduce one's capacity. Or, reversing the rule, as Coranor expressed it 400 years ago, "He who would eat much must eat little." Let's walk more so we can eat more.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
The Pressure Myth.
Is the so called health belt a benefit or a hindrance in reducing corpulence? I have developed a "bay window" complex and I am anxious to do something about it. (H. L. C.)

Answer:—Rather a hindrance. If pressure really would reduce, a lot of people could reduce where they need it most by just sitting around all the time. Bay windows have gone out of fashion, along with log cabins and ice cream parlors dangling there from. Put on the old comfortable shoes and try a little oxygen on the hoof for the young and old.

J. L. Jacquot and J. A. Young had been spending the week in New London where they were trying to interest citizens in establishment of a pickle factory similar to the one in operation in this city.

Members of George D. Eggleston post, Grand Army of the Republic, adopted resolutions sympathizing with the band of 4,000 farmers in the republic of South Africa, who were defeated by the army of 40,000 British soldiers. The South Africans were fighting for the right of self government.

At the regular meeting of the Forum of Ryan high school last evening, the negative team was the victor in a debate on the question Resolved, that the United States should withdraw her troops from the Philippines. The Rev. Julius Rohde, pastor of Holy Cross church, Kaukauna, was planning to leave April 15 for a visit to the Holy Land.

TEN YEARS AGO.
Saturday, Feb. 27, 1913.

Several hundred French soldiers were burned in the fighting between the Argonne and the Meuse today when the German troops threw liquid fire into the French trenches. The French second line, enraged at this act, drove the Germans from their positions. Reports from the vicinity of Lemberg, indicated that the Russians had repulsed the Germans and a new Austrian troop movement in a brilliant 44-hour battle there.

It took Fred F. Wetzel only 62 minutes to go from Appleton to New London yesterday in his new touring car.
The new Y. M. C. A. was to be opened about June 1, providing the building project was free of debt, according to a statement of F. J. Harwood at a banquet of 140 workers at Eagle hall last night.

Saturday Sermon

This is the lenten season, and instead of the usual "weekly sermon" it has seemed advisable to give a group of prayers which will be helpful for "daily devotions" during these weeks.
A PRAYER FOR THE LENTEN SEASON

Almighty God, Father everlasting, who has set us in the fellowship of Thy Son—Jesus Christ, be near to us in this season of meditation and communion.

May our hearts be open to every holy affection, and ready to receive and cherish every sacred memory and serious impression. Give us to know the power of that life and death which this season commemorates.

Let a portion of that spirit which led our Savior to the cross, descend upon us and fill our hearts with the love of God and man.

Here and now, may every selfish passion and desire be stilled and may the peace of God which passeth all understanding keep our thoughts in Christ Jesus, our Lord. Amen!

A PRAYER FOR PEACE OF MIND
Grant, we beseech Thee, merciful Lord, to Thy faithful people, pardon and peace, that they may be cleansed from all their sins; and serve Thee with a quiet mind; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen!

Gelasian Sacramentary. (500 A.D.)
A PRAYER FOR THE HEAVY LADEN

O Thou who art love, and seest all the suffering, injustice and misery which reign in this world; have pity, we implore Thee, on the work of Thy hands. Look mercifully upon the poor, look oppressed, and all who are heavy laden with error, labor, and sorrow.

Fill our hearts with deep compassion for those who suffer, and hasten the coming of Thy kingdom of justice and truth, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen!

A MORNING PRAYER FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

I thank Thee, Heavenly Father, for keeping me safe from danger through the night. Thou art good to me, and want to love Thee and be Thy child. May I do nothing wrong today. May I be happy and kind and useful. Help me to be honest in all my work and fair in all my play.

May I find some place today where I may do a good turn to someone, and may I be kept from boasting when it is done. When night comes may I be stronger and better than I am now, because Thou hast taught and helped me. I ask it for my Master's sake. Amen!

Ozora S. Davis
AN EVENING PRAYER FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

"Dear Father, I thank Thee for all the beautiful things that Thou hast made, and I am happy, too, when I think that God made me, and loves me, and takes care of me. I thank Thee for the home where I am now. I love to make me good and happy. Forgive me all the wrong that I have done today and help me to do better tomorrow, for Jesus' sake. Amen!"

Ozora S. Davis
FOR THE SPIRIT OF SERVICE
O God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the gift of Thy dear Son, Grant that we who have received Him in our hearts may joyfully go forth with Him in many errands. Bless those who toil for Thee in far-off places; comfort them in their lone loneliness; and unite our work to theirs. Accept our gifts; receive our prayers, and use us for the sake of Thy Son Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen!

William Bright.

A PRAYER HYMN
O Love That Will Not Let Me Go
O love that wilt not let me go,
I rest my weary soul in thee;
I give thee back the life I owe,
That in thine ocean depths its flow
May richer, fuller be.

O Joy that seekest me through pain,
I cannot close my heart to thee,
I trace the rainbow through the rain,
And feel the promise is not vain
That morn shall tearless be.

O cross that liftest up my head,
I dare not ask to fly from thee;
I lay in dust life's glory dead,
And from the ground these blossoms
red
Life that shall endless be.

George Matheson (1882)
Almighty God, who givest us our quiet seasons of thought and prayer, help us now and at all times to find in thee our true peace. Save us in the hour of trial, deliver us from evil thoughts and desires, and from the tyranny of outward things. May we learn of Christ to be strong and brave in the struggle with temptation, and to overcome even as he overcame. Amen.

Beneath The Cross of Jesus
Beneath the cross of Jesus
I fain would take my stand—
The shadow of the mighty rock
Within a weary land.
A home within the wilderness,
A rest upon the way,
From the burning of the noontide heat,
And the burden of the day.

Upon that cross of Jesus
Mine eye at times can see
The very dying form of One
Who suffered there for me;
And from my smitten heart with tears
Two wonders I confess—
The wonders of his glorious love
And my unworthiness.

Elizabeth C. Clephane (1868)
Draw nigh to us, now, as we draw nigh to thee, and in this quiet and sacred hour be thou the hope and peace of our souls. Though no man hath seen thee at any time, we have heard thy voice in our soul, and the vision of thy goodness hath been as a glory to our lives. Amen.

ANOTHER PRAYER HYMN
Jesus The Very Thought of Thee
Jesus, the very thought of thee,
With sweetness fills my breast;
But sweeter far thy face to see,
And in thy presence rest.

Nor voice can sing, nor heart can frame
Nor can the memory find
A sweeter sound than thy blest name
O Saviour of Mankind.

O hope of every contrite heart,
O joy of all the meek,
To those who fall, how kind thou art
How good to those who seek!

Jesus, our only joy be thou,
As thou our prize wilt be;
Jesus, be thou our glory now;
And through eternity.

Q Are men ever accepted in the navy who are not 5 feet 4 inches tall?
F. S.

A The navy department says that upon enlisting a man in the navy, the difference in the required height may be waived for one inch. That is, a man is 63 inches tall instead of the required 64 inches, provided he is otherwise qualified; but in no case is more than one inch waived.

Q How much territory does the Great American Desert cover?
O. E.

A The boundaries are vague. The outer limits are the Rockies and the continuing ranges in New Mexico and Texas on the east. The Sierra Nevada and Cascade ranges on the west. The north and south limits are British Columbia and the Mexican boundary. Only a part of this area is actually arid waste land, comprising about 550,000 square miles.

Q How many tablespoons of cocoa are equal to a square of unsweetened chocolate?
C. L. F.

A The Bureau of Home Economics says that 1/4 cup of cocoa plus 1/2 lb. of blespoon shortening is equal to one ounce or one square of chocolate.

Q What makes cats purr?
J. McE.

A The purring sound made by cats is made by throwing the vocal cord into vibration measured and regulated by the respiration, and this vibration is strong enough to make the whole larynx tremble so that it may be felt or seen from the outside. Purring is highly characteristic of the cat tribe, though, probably not confined to it. It is usually the means by which these felines show contentment.

KAUKAUNA WHIPS CLINTONVILLE BY 22 TO 6 SCORE

Invaders Held to Single Basket in Fast Tussle at Kaukauna

Kaukauna—The high school basketball team finished its conference season Friday evening in the auditorium by treating Clintonville high to a 22 to 6 drubbing before a capacity audience. The visitors were held to one field goal, a long shot garnered in the first few minutes of play. The remaining four points were scored on free throws.

The Orange and Black played an astonishing floor game and had the ball rolling through the hoop from all angles. The boys penetrated the visiting defense easily and executed teamwork that brought bursts of applause from the audience.

Schneider, the sensational midcourt, on the visiting team failed to hit his stride and was outscored. He is known as well as Kaukauna's midcourt, Miller, who was one of the locals' outstanding stars. Miller started the boys off by saying three field goals in quick succession in the early stages of the game after Clintonville failed to score on a free throw.

The team Friday evening showed improvement and great things are expected of it in the Appleton tournament. Although every man played a whole of a game Miller and Farrell probably did the best work. Miller led in the scoring while Farrell played guard and it was his good work which stopped the invaders from adding to their total.

Although the visitors were reputed excellent shots on long tries, they failed to live up to their reputation and the numerous chances they took all went wide of the basket.

During the last few minutes of play Coach Bill Smith reined his entire team and put in men who will form next year's team. The squad composed of Bissell, McFadden, Boyd, Golden and Kilgas played a speedy game and revealed excellent prospects for next year. The game started with Dix, right forward; Miller, left forward; Macroe, center; Farrell, left guard and Brier, right guard.

A three game volleyball match between two business men's teams preceding the basketball game furnished a great deal of amusement. Weekly practice has made the men quite agile and both teams played fast ball. The team composed of Owen Kito, Joseph Gerend, the Rev. E. L. Worthman, L. J. Brenzel and P. R. Chamberlain won three straight games of 15 points each. The victims were S. N. Engdholdt, J. F. Larson, W. N. Nolan, Joseph Krahn, Harry Conkey and Anton Frank.

A class of about 50 candidates will receive the second and third degrees at a big meeting of Kaukauna council Knights of Columbus, Sunday afternoon in the high school auditorium. Special plans are being made for the event.

TONGUES OF FLAME
The Paramount picture, "Tongues of Flame," starring Thomas Meighan, is the feature at the Appleton Theatre starting Monday.

"Tongues of Flame" is the last novel by the late Peter Clark MacFarlane. It's a full-sized thriller with the star in his finest role in months. The picture more than proves that Meighan's name outside of any theatre is a guarantee of money's worth entertainment.

Tom is sure there when it comes to virile, two-fisted "he-man" characters. And "Tongues of Flame" is Meighan at his best.

Joseph Henabery, who made Valentino's "A Sainted Devil," directed the picture which tells of a grasping capitalist who uses every underhanded means imaginable to swindle a group of Indians out of their valuable reservations. Meighan, playing "Hell Fire" Harrington, veteran of the Great War, in the employ of the swindler is used as a tool in the transaction until he is brought to a realization of what is going on.

CHARMING ACTRESS WINS NEW LAURELS AS STAR OF "WHAT SHALL I DO?"

Dorothy Mackaill, that beautiful English girl with the spun gold hair and a fragile beauty that goes with Spring and daisy fields, has secured another screen success in "Frank E. Woods' problem story, "What Shall I Do?" at the New Bijou Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.

Never has Miss Mackaill been so appealing; never has she had a better opportunity to display her ability as an emotional actress. As Joanne Andrews, left by a strange play of circumstances an abandoned wife confronted with the task of supporting herself and her baby, she does some excellent work.

REGINALD DENNY HAS AMUSING ROLE AGAIN

Rufus Billups, Jr., had attained a little more than his majority before he took any real exercise—and then that exercise was vicarious, for it was taken while Rufus was dreaming that he was a faun and was gambling over the greensward in company of a beautiful nymph. Then Rufus awoke and he could really feel the tingling of muscle and flesh consequent upon his extraordinary unusual physical activity; also, as his dream came back to him he realized that the beautiful nymph was his beautiful nurse.

What resulted from this dream of Rufus is the beginning of the end of the hilariously humorous story told by "Oh, Doctor!" Universal-Jewel, starring Reginald Denny and being shown in the Elite Theatre, today and Sunday. And the picturization of the dream, with Denny as the faun and beautiful Mary Astor as the nymph, is one of the funniest scenes in this funniest of stories ever to come from the brain of Harry Leon Wilson.

CARROLL QUINT BOWS TO LAWRENTIANS, 30 TO 15

Lawrence Clinches Little Five Title By Friday Victory

Ashman's Brilliant Follow-ups and Blues' Teamwork Keeps Big Crowd in Uproar

Defeating the faast, clever Carroll quintet, Lawrence Friday night evened its score with the invaders and at the same time clinched its hold on the Little Five championship. The Blues failed to play up to their best standard and during the first half took the lead chiefly because of Carroll's hard luck in shooting. The invaders broke through the Lawrence defense several times in quick succession but the ball bounced out of the hoop or rolled of the edge most of the time. This happened to a number of Kotal's attempts also, after the Lawrence guard had worked his way directly under the basket.

Carroll kept the Lawrentians well covered all through the half and it was two long shots by Heideinan that gave the Blues their first advantage. Ashman's follow shots featured the Lawrence team's play together with a number of long ones by Heideinan, while Schultze stirred for the invaders. Perfect team work gave Lawrence a big advantage, especially in the second half when the Blues had the ball most of the time.

The crowd was of the size as any this year. Carroll brought a large number of rooters and the air was full of cheers, howls and groans from start to finish.

FIRST HALF
Zussman got the ball on the tipup but his shot missed the mark, and in following it up he fouled Sterr, who missed the freethrow. Then Kotal dove through the Carroll defense twice in succession, missed from under the hoop both times.

Schulze drew first blood when he sent a long shot through without touching the ring, but Ashman tied it with a perfect overhead shot. Schulze missed a chance to score after Zussman's second foul. Sterr recovered the ball after the freethrow and made it count for two points when he boosted it through.

After Schulze had missed another freethrow on Ashman's foul, Heideinan took two long chances with perfect aim and Lawrence was in the lead, 6 to 4. With seven minutes to go in the half Ashman again followed up a long shot by Briese and bounded it into the net. Ruelh shot a basket, but Heideinan offset it when he drove under the net and dropped the ball through.

With a minute to go both teams intensified their fighting, but just before the end Ashman got an open shot and took the chance perfectly, putting Lawrence on top, 12 to 6.

SECOND HALF
From the start of the second half Lawrence began to play in better form. As far as floorwork was concerned the invaders were backed off the map and forced to rely on long shots almost exclusively. Kotal and Briese drew them out of their alignment and then drove down the floor for close shots. Ashman's brilliant follow-ups sent the ball through seven times after the guards had missed.

Ashman started scoring when he boosted the leather through the ring after a shot by Briese had rolled off the edge of the basket. Sterr made two freethrows off Kotal's foul, and right after the tossup Kotal tried a long shot that fouled the mark. His next one, a money shot, went wide, but Ashman again drove in and made it count.

With 14 minutes to go Carroll took time out. When play was resumed Ashman got the ball on a series of passes exchanged with Briese and Kotal, and shooting backhand from under the board, sent it through. Dugan, lanky Carroll center, drove through the Blues' defense for a basket, and Briese, fouled by Zazal, missed both freethrows.

Schultze caught the ball when Dugan out jumped Ashman on the tipup and turning on his toes shot it through from where he stood. After Heideinan had made another close shot and with seven minutes left Zussman missed two fourthours after Bazzal fouled him, but Kotal made one on Dugan's foul.

Stacy and Briese fouled each other shortly after and each made two freethrows. Stacy made another when Zussman fouled him, and Lawrence was leading, 25 to 15, with 2 1/2 minutes to go. Heideinan's two freethrows on Schulze's foul gave Lawrence two more points. Kotal, after drawing out the Carroll defense drove through and under the basket, making a shot from under the board. Briese followed with a freethrow on Sterr's foul, and the game was over after Stacy missed a fourthour when Clark, going in for Heideinan, failed to report.

The lineups:
Carroll Lawrence
R. F. Ruelh Heideinan R. F.
L. F. Sterr Zussman L. F.
C. Dugan Ashman C.
R. G. Schulze Kotal R. G.
L. G. Dazal Briese L. G.
Substitutions—Stacy for Ruelh; Grove for Ashman; Clark for Heideinan; Johnson for Zussman; Reford, Lewis, Wisconsin, umpire, Stoddard, Milwaukee Normal.

In the opener Kaukauna and the Island Paper Co. five were forced to call the game in the third quarter when the score stood 13 all. Kaukauna was leading, 13 to 6 at halftime, but the Appleton men came back strong in the second half and threatened to upset the invaders. Hilde, Bieler, Zwickler and Hillman did the scoring for Appleton, while Marinus, Taylor, St. Michel starred for Kaukauna.

Milwaukee—Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul and Young Stribling of Atlanta, Ga., boxed ten rounds here Friday night, the result according to the opinion of newspapermen at ringside, ranging from a draw to a shade to either boxer. Delaney was warned twice for hitting low, and Stribling was permitted to go to his corner and rest in the second round when Delaney planted a left hook low. In the first round Stribling said he was hit low also. Stribling weighed 174 and Delaney 168.

Billy Enke of St. Paul knocked out Jack Duffy of Chicago, and Guy Mauro of Chicago was disqualified for wrestling his match with Jack Feldman, Milwaukee. Mauro was winning at the time of his disqualification.

CREDIT COSTLIEST WALKS IN HISTORY TO BASKSTOP TATE

Catcher Drew Base on Balls Each Time He Played in Crucial Series

Washington, D. C.—After every big sporting event, the demon statisticians present long rows of figures to tell you how easy the athletes get their money.

However, it is doubtful if any player ever got a softer bank roll than did Catcher Benny Tate in the last world series.

With Muddy Rueli fit there was no chance for Tate to break into the lineup other than as pinch hitter. Three times during the series he was assigned that task.

In each appearance at the plate Tate drew a base on balls. He swung at one pitch, a foul resulting. On the side of that he merely stood at the plate while the umpire yelled ball.

For his three walks Tate received over $6000 as his share of the series melon. It is doubtful if there were ever any costlier walks in baseball.

Aside from netting Tate over $6000 they were costly bits of wildness on the part of the New York twirlers as far as the Giants' share was concerned.

Lake Worth, Fla.—Putt Mossman Eldora, Ia., and Mrs. M. A. Lanham Bloomington, Ind., retained their national titles in the horseshoe pitching tournament.

Strangler Lewis Says Munn Outsmarted Him

New York—"The kid outsmarted me."

In this short, succinct sentence Ed Strangler Lewis admitted he deserved to be beaten by Big Wayne Munn in the memorable wrestling match which cost the veteran headlock genius his heavyweight title.

Lewis has no alibis to present. Nor does he seek to belittle the form or Nebraska football star's greatness as a wrestler.

"I was in pretty good condition that night, and I knew Munn was anything but a setup. I figured I knew more about the technique of the sport than he and I banked on my knowledge to offset his tremendous size."

"I knew, too, his best hold was a croch and half Nelson. A man his size can murder anybody with that hold so I conceived a plan by which I hoped to evade it. The plan, in short, was to headlock him at every opportunity, and release the lock gradually whenever he seemed dangerous."

MUNN WATCHED ARM

"This meant that I would trade him a headlock for a croch. Rather, release the lock in order to escape the croch. It worked well three or four times. I would release the hold with my left arm and turn my body in such a way as to keep Munn at a safe distance."

"But always he would come back apparently trying the same tactics without any variation whatever. I said to myself 'This boy is simple. He knows but one way of doing things.' He lacks craftiness. While these thoughts were still running through my mind, Munn proceeded to

Appleton High Five Plays Oshkosh With Two Veterans Lost

Orange Will Be Under Serious Handicap With Only Short Time to Work in New Players

With the squad badly crippled by the loss of two regulars Appleton Saturday invades Oshkosh for a conference game postponed from Friday. Coach Jule Kevin has been working Cookson and Knip to replace Fraser and Courtney, and the two men made a good showing during the week's drill. However the time was too short to bring them up to the standard of the men they will replace, and Appleton goes into the fray seriously handicapped.

In a previous game here, the Orange defeated the Sawdust City schoolers, 22 to 20, the game being one of the hardest played on the Appleton G. court. With the two veterans gone, Oshkosh is hoped to win and wipe out its early defeat, but will have to fight hard to do so, according to Kevin.

After the Oshkosh game the Orange still must meet Fond du Lac which with Green Bay as a possible rival, is hoped as the best team in the conference. The Fondy-Appleton game will be played here. Appleton also has scored a win over the Crim schoolers on their home court, 20 to 11.

CHICAGO BATTLES OHIO STATE FIVE

Maroons Are Hopelessly Out of Running but a Dangerous Foe

Chicago—Western conference basketball interest Saturday centered on the meeting in Columbus of Ohio State, heading the race for championship honors, and Chicago, hopelessly out of the running but a dangerous foe.

The Maroons have been strengthened by the return of Barta at guard, but the Buckeye squad is determined to maintain its advantage and is a favorite to win Ohio won a previous fray.

As neither Northwestern nor Minnesota are among the leading title contenders there is less importance attached to their conflict at Minneapolis. Baker of the Purple has a bad shoulder and White a twisted ankle. The Michigan-Wisconsin set at Madison has little bearing on the title competition.

Purdue, Indiana, Iowa and Illinois, who played Friday night have no games scheduled.

CLASS OF BOYS LEARN TELEGRAPHY AS LIFE WORK

Special classes for boys interested in telegraphy as a life work are being held on Tuesday and Wednesday of each week at Appleton Vocational school. The boys work in pairs and go through the actual progress of the telegraph operator in sending and receiving. All of the members of the group are boys employed at the Western Union Telegraph Co., or definitely planning on that type of work as a life vocation. One of the boys is a high school student at the present time but goes to the vocational school on Wednesday afternoons for the special training that the vocational school is able to give. Clyde Cavert, a Northern Pacific railroad telegrapher for several years, is in charge of the class.

CIGAR MAGIC

During a music hall performance there was a sudden commotion at the back of the stage, and the manager dashed behind.

"Look here," he said, "what the deuce is all this row about?"

A scene shifter smiled broadly. "Dye know the magician who eats fire?" he said. "Well, he's just put the wrong end of a cigar in his mouth!"—London Tit Bits.

San Francisco, Calif.—Joe Simonich, Butte, Mont., welterweight, won a technical knockout over "Lefty" Cooper, Minneapolis, in the eighth of a scheduled ten-round bout.

No. 10. Petition of the town of Freedom read. (County trunk line "S").

September 29, 1924.

TO THE HONORABLE COUNTY BOARD OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WISCONSIN.

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned, free holder and tax payers of Outagamie County, Wisconsin, do hereby petition your Honorable body to make the following roads a County Highway:

Line "S", said highway being a prospective State Highway. We respectfully request that the improvement extend over a distance of approximately seven miles and that the work be commenced at the intersection of County Trunk Line "A" and proceed west and east as far as the funds are available.

We recommend that the road be surfaced with gravel or macadam and that the sum of Forty Thousand ($40,000.00) Dollars be raised for the current year, one half to be spent on the west end of the road, and the other half on the east end. We respectfully submit that this work is most necessary and will be of immense benefit not only to the people in that locality but to the county generally.

Signed by 84 freeholders.

Same was referred to the Highway Committee.

No. 11. Petition of the Village of Black Creek read. (State Trunk Highway No. 47).

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS AND TO THE COUNTY HIGHWAY COMMITTEE OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WISCONSIN.

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned Village Board and freeholders of the Village of Black Creek do hereby petition your Honorable body to improve by concrete paving, that portion of State Trunk Highway No. 47, commencing at the north end of the present concrete, at a point on mile post 15, running thence north on State Trunk 47, through said village to the north end of a steel girder bridge spanning the Black Creek.

The petitioners pray that this improvement be granted at the November session of your Board, and that an appropriation be provided sufficient to take care of said improvement.

The improvement in question is upon a highway which carries a heavy traffic, and is, therefore, very much in need of a permanent pavement. The present surface on said highway is of gravel and crushed stone type and does not meet the needs of the heavy traffic. And whereas, it has cost the County considerable for maintaining this portion of said Trunk highway, we, the undersigned deem it advisable that a more permanent type of pavement be laid in place of the present type, and by so doing, the County would save money for its expense.

Dated this 10th day of September, A. D. 1924.

Signed: Henry Froelich, Village President, H. E. Zabel, N. A. Elick, J. J. Laird, J. N. Wagner, W. A. Bartmann, Jacob Kranz, Trustees, A. A. Gerl, Clerk, and 88 freeholders of Village of Black Creek.

TO JOHN E. HANTSCHER, COUNTY CLERK AND G. F. FIEDLER, CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNTY BOARD OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WISCONSIN.

Gentlemen: The petition of the Town Board of Supervisors of the Town of Oneda, County of Outagamie, Wisconsin, respectfully represents:

FIRST—That there has been in said town of Oneda a bridge maintained in and as a part of the public highway and known as the Van Bockel bridge across the Trout creek in the public highway on the Oneda Station Road, of said town of Oneda in the said county of Outagamie.

SECOND—That on the 2nd day of May 1924, said bridge was completely wrecked and washed out by a flood or freshet; and that the public interest demands said bridge be replaced with as little delay as possible. It is necessary that the work of re construction or repairing be taken up at once as the proper case of emergency under Sub-Section 4-1319 of the laws of Wisconsin.

THIRD—That the estimated cost of building said bridge is $3,000.00 Dollars, which sum exceeds the amount of $500.00 Dollars, and therefore brings the expense of constructing said bridge within the statutes of Wisconsin, in such case made and provided.

FOURTH—That the said town provided and this time holds available for its part of expense of constructing said bridge, the sum of $1,500.00 Dollars, as such sum in excess thereof as the case may be necessary to bear the expenses of one-half of the entire expenses of building said bridge.

FIFTH—Wherefore, your petitioner ask the chairman of the county board to appoint two of its members of that body to co-operate with the authorities of the Town of Oneda in the work of prosecuting the rebuilding and construction of said bridge, according to Sub-Section 4 of Section 1819 of the Laws of Wisconsin as amended.

No. 10. Petition of the town of Freedom read. (County trunk line "S").

September 29, 1924.

TO THE HONORABLE COUNTY BOARD OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WISCONSIN.

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned, free holder and tax payers of Outagamie County, Wisconsin, do hereby petition your Honorable body to make the following roads a County Highway:

Line "S", said highway being a prospective State Highway. We respectfully request that the improvement extend over a distance of approximately seven miles and that the work be commenced at the intersection of County Trunk Line "A" and proceed west and east as far as the funds are available.

We recommend that the road be surfaced with gravel or macadam and that the sum of Forty Thousand ($40,000.00) Dollars be raised for the current year, one half to be spent on the west end of the road, and the other half on the east end. We respectfully submit that this work is most necessary and will be of immense benefit not only to the people in that locality but to the county generally.

No. 11. Petition of the Village of Black Creek read. (State Trunk Highway No. 47).

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS AND TO THE COUNTY HIGHWAY COMMITTEE OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WISCONSIN.

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned Village Board and freeholders of the Village of Black Creek do hereby petition your Honorable body to improve by concrete paving, that portion of State Trunk Highway No. 47, commencing at the north end of the present concrete, at a point on mile post 15, running thence north on State Trunk 47, through said village to the north end of a steel girder bridge spanning the Black Creek.

The petitioners pray that this improvement be granted at the November session of your Board, and that an appropriation be provided sufficient to take care of said improvement.

The improvement in question is upon a highway which carries a heavy traffic, and is, therefore, very much in need of a permanent pavement. The present surface on said highway is of gravel and crushed stone type and does not meet the needs of the heavy traffic. And whereas, it has cost the County considerable for maintaining this portion of said Trunk highway, we, the undersigned deem it advisable that a more permanent type of pavement be laid in place of the present type, and by so doing, the County would save money for its expense.

Dated this 10th day of September, A. D. 1924.

Signed: Henry Froelich, Village President, H. E. Zabel, N. A. Elick, J. J. Laird, J. N. Wagner, W. A. Bartmann, Jacob Kranz, Trustees, A. A. Gerl, Clerk, and 88 freeholders of Village of Black Creek.

Dear Sir:

On July 13, my orchestra was to play for a dance at Fellers Grove House, Bear Creek. Mr. Feller was to receive a certain percentage of the amount taken in. There was no tickets sold and no dance held although everything was ready for the dance but no crowd came. We played for a short time and Mr. Feller then locked up the place. I left for the house and floor manager and gave Mr. Feller $5 for the license or permit to hold the dance. I was very disappointed that I would receive my money for the license but if no crowd came and as I haven't received it decided to write you regarding same. Has this money been sent to you? If so will you please come to me as no tickets were sold and if same hasn't been sent to you will you please advise Mr. Feller to return same to me. Anyway, let me hear from you. Thanks.

No. 45. Resolution of Milwaukee County regarding flood relief read.

COUNTY BOARD, MILWAUKEE COUNTY, WIS.

TO THE HONORABLE THE COUNTY BOARD.

Gentlemen: Your joint committee on County Highways and Judiciary to which was referred at a meeting held on Sept. 9, 1924, (proceedings 1924-1925, page 138), the resolution of Supervisor Heath in reference to providing relief from the recurrent floods along the Milwaukee river in said county by the construction of a sluiceway channel from the river to Lake Michigan at a point in Ozaukee county, near Mequon, begs leave to report that it has considered same and recommends for adoption the following substitute resolution:

Whereas the recurrent spring floods along the Milwaukee river in Milwaukee county and the recent extraordinary flood in the same location, have resulted in very considerable damage not only to the property of private parties, but also to that of the county of Milwaukee; and

Whereas the county of Milwaukee is directly and deeply interested in ascertaining whether permanent relief from these conditions can be secured and the nature of such permanent relief, and in procuring the enactment of such legislation as may be necessary to accomplish this result;

Whereas a movement is now actively under way, in which a very large number of citizens of the county of Milwaukee affected by these flood conditions have interested themselves, to secure the enactment and procure such relief as may be adequate and the county of Milwaukee has already, through its county highway committee and county highway department made some study of this situation and the same is also being studied by the railroad commission of Wisconsin at Milwaukee through their engineering departments; and

Whereas, The necessity of procuring legislation adequate to grant relief from flood conditions is also evidenced by damage done by floods in Milwaukee county, therefore,

Resolved, That this board do operate with the aid of a careful engineering study of flood conditions within Milwaukee county and the causes thereof and remedies therefor, and favors the enactment of legislation which will bring about relief from these conditions, and hereby directs the district attorney of Milwaukee to operate with the aid of attorneys for the bodies interested in drafting a bill covering such legislation as may be necessary to authorize relief from flood conditions, which bill, when prepared, shall be submitted by the district attorney to this board for its further consideration.

Be It Further Resolved, That certified copies of this resolution be forwarded to His Excellency, Honorable John J. Blaine, governor of the state of Wisconsin, the mayor and common council of the city of Milwaukee, the county boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state of Wisconsin and the Milwaukee River Flood Relief associations of Milwaukee and Ozaukee counties.

Little Chute, Wis., Nov. 10, 1924.

TO THE HONORABLE CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS OF THE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WISCONSIN.

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned Trustees of Riverview Sanatorium, hereby submit our twelfth (12th) annual report covering the operation of the Sanatorium for the year ending June 30th, 1924.

The Board has held twelve regular and two special meetings during the year. At the regular meetings the accounts are carefully audited and matters pertaining to the operation of the Sanatorium are given due consideration.

Our observation leads us to believe the patients are well cared for and are generally contented and results are equal to those obtained by other institutions of similar character in the State.

During the year 75 patients were cared for, 53 of which were from Outagamie County and 22 from other counties.

The following is a summary of the receipts and disbursements for the year:

RECEIPTS

State Aid $ 3,322.00

Outside Counties 6,171.36

Pay Patients 828.87

Miscellaneous	160.30
Outagamie County	15,368.56
Total	$16,528.86
DISBURSEMENTS
Food Supplies	$ 7,191.76
General Expenses	8,618.75
Dormitory	2,825.99
Salaries	10,891.85
Medical	894.85
Equipment	234.75
Kitchen and Dining	291.67
Total	$30,857.19

The per capita cost per week for a patient after spreading the cost of new equipment over a proper number of years has been $18.29.

Through the audit by Reley-Penner & Benton it has been determined that there is due from the state the sum of $4,749.01. Apparently this is due to the State Board of Control failing to give us the proper credits. Steps are being taken to have the matter properly adjusted.

During the two years the State has failed to meet her obligation to the Sanatorium by failing to appropriate sufficient money to pay $7.00 per capita per week for indigent patients.

That she recognizes her responsibilities in this matter is evidenced by the frequent inspections, recommendations and reports that the state requires.

We would respectfully request that your Honorable Body petition both assemblymen from this county and the Senator from this district to support the appropriation to be received by the Sanatorium for the year ending June 30th of the Sanatoriums of the State.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that the term of P. D. Rohan as trustee, expires January 1st, 1925 and it will be necessary to appoint his successor at this November session.

The accompanying Attending Physician's report has been received and adopted as supplementary to this report.

F. J. HARWOOD,

P. E. BAHAN,

C. BOYD,

Little Chute, Wis., Nov. 10, 1924.

To the Trustees of Riverview Sanatorium:

Gentlemen:

As visiting physician I hereby submit my annual report for the year ending June 30th, 1924.

relating to the hospitalization of patients at Riverview Sanatorium have been cared for during the year.

The average length of time patients stay in the Sanatorium has been about six months, which is not long enough to bring about a permanent arrest of the disease, but should serve to acquaint the patients with the proper information and establish habits so that they are better prepared to continue their treatment at home.

Of the 75 patients, 53 were from Outagamie County and 22 from other counties.

The classification and results of treatment for the 75 cases are as follows:

	Disease	Improved	Arrested	Failed	Died
--	---------	----------	----------	--------	------

1st Stage	11	11	10	0	0
2nd Stage	13	13	10	0	0
3rd Stage	51	19	6	22	11

It is obvious that we continue to get most of our cases after they have reached an advanced stage of the disease when the opportunity for regaining their health has passed.

Our greatest problem would seem to be the discovery of cases earlier and giving them Sanatorium care before they have reached a stage where there is a more favorable chance for their recovery.

This is possible of accomplishment with the agencies we now have, together with the addition of a specially trained health nurse, whose duties would be to investigate the families and contacts of patients in the Sanatorium, to follow up discharged patients to see that they remain well and to see and advise with any cases discovered through clinics; by giving free chest examination at regular intervals in different parts of the county; by encouraging the local physicians to report cases as soon as they observe a case.

As the Sanatorium is now a part of the special health nurse to the staff of the Sanatorium, it would seem that much more thorough and efficient work could be accomplished.

This additional burden to the Sanatorium under present conditions would not seem to be practical or justified.

A Sanatorium with accommodations for 50 or 60 patients could be operated with practically our present staff and with but little increase in our present overhead expense.

The larger institution that could move more profitable economically and as a health asset to the community.

I suggest that the Board of Trustees give the matter of enlarging Riverview Sanatorium to a 50 or 60 bed institution their earnest consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

C. D. BOYD,

Attending Physician.

Report of the County Nurse read.

REPORT TO HONORABLE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS:

Of the schools visited four were special visits to investigate contagion, scarlet fever was found and quarantined.

A special effort is being made to aid in the control of contagious disease as we know the poison left in the home on any contagious disease is later in life the result of heart and kidney trouble.

The monthly visiting of the children are all prominent ones a nurse could have immediate attention. Many parents are reported having had corrections made.

In some districts children reported not having a toothbrush and that it was necessary for them to have one. They are able to purchase toothbrushes in large lots from the Takamine Corporation at 5c a piece which makes it possible for every child to own one. Already 67 of the toothbrushes have been sold.

The monthly visiting of the children which is a very important item to the growing child cannot be done in the schools due to the absence of a scale, although many teachers are able to secure the use of one from a nearby home.

These factories, and will continue to check on the progress made by each home which will soon be the possessor of a scale.

A talk is given in each school on the care of the body and it compares with an automobile and showing the danger to the fingers when soap and water are not frequently used.

A wash bowl and soap in each school is suggested where every child must wash before eating lunch; this will prevent any infections from entering the body.

The monthly agency at the over-heated school room is the result of the teachers, that the vitality of the child must be protected.

An invitation is extended to the parents through the teacher to be present when making the inspection. In some cases it is a parent which makes it very hard to get to both parents and nurse.

To stimulate an interest in the development of the body of the children as a group, a health poster is being placed in each school which acts as a base for contact work, but which develop a healthy body such as drinking milk, eating vegetables and caring for teeth. It has already proven very beneficial as well as interesting. A brief report of the work has started in Outagamie County to protect and improve the health of the people.

REILLY, PENNER & BENTON
Milwaukee, November 8th, 1924

Outagamie County Board of Supervisors,
Appleton, Wisconsin.

Gentlemen:

We desire to submit our annual estimate for the audit and accounting work of Outagamie County in 1925.

We offer to undertake the task for the sum of $600.00, which is the same as we have received in the past. The volume of work required and the services demanded of us have increased and the improved system and efficiency in your principal offices make it possible to handle the work at approximately the same cost as heretofore.

In this connection, we desire to point out that our estimate is not a bid in the way that materials and supplies are offered, as professional services cannot be measured in quantities. If we were to undertake to simply audit the records and verify your cash, the offer could be made at a lower price. We are not in your office for the first eleven years, and the experience we have with other cities and cities, we are frequently called upon to act as advisors and consulting capacity for your officers and auditors, and to report and investigate matters beyond the audit.

We are asked to attend hearings, and committee meetings, to investigate funds and departments, to develop and install new records, and to regularly report upon and make recommendations, and to make audits, etc. This work is not undertaken without extra charge.

Superv. McClone moved to adopt the following resolution: "Resolved, That the County Board of Supervisors do hereby address the Board and give his annual report TO THE HONORABLE, THE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WISCONSIN

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen:

I take great pleasure in reporting to you, in accordance with the requirements of subd. 6 of Section 39.67 of the Statutes, the progress and condition of the public schools of Outagamie County.

It is difficult to know just what to include in a report of this kind. Evidently the Legislature had in mind the financial report and a record of special activities being carried on in the county. Since this board has no legal connection with any of the policies that may be carried on, it is evident that the primary purpose of the report is to give publicity to certain phases of educational progress, and it is our purpose to give in these few pages a picture of the types of work that we have been stressing this past year.

Next to the home, the school comes in closest contact with our daily life. The school is virtually a part of the life of the coast of the home. The American ideal of an "education for every member of this country necessarily involves the expenditure of money, and unfortunately the school is as closely connected with the thought of money in the mind of many citizens as the service of the school is secondary to the thought of money. In Russia is almost schoolless and as a result anarchy, and economic insecurity blight the country. The American ideal is cheap at any price when one considers the condition of its people in every walk in life, and the ease with which any one with sufficient energy and ambition can climb, with the aid of the work of the past year so satisfactory, and to what our position in life appears to him.

Our work during the past year has been devoted entirely to the schools of this county, and particularly to that phase of school work that will enable teachers to teach boys and girls in the present and to prepare them for the future. It is hard to show the nature of this work in a report. If we can make you interested in the thing that interests us above all else, we shall be satisfied. In transmitting this report to you, I solicit a continuance of that generous support which has been the basis of our success. I pledge to you and the people of the county the greatest possible service that my time and ability can render.

Respectfully yours,
Arthur G. Meating, County Superintendent

November 11, 1924.

RESULTS OF SUPERVISION

Its Need—

Supervision of schools is carrying over to the educational system a policy that has been developed by the business world for the efficient discharge of its business. Men of experience in large industrial enterprises discovered long ago that it was necessary to protect their investment by having in the plant the best of the equipment, and that close and efficient connection with these general supervisors it was necessary to have some one responsible for the smaller groups that made up their executive system. This close supervision of a business enterprise is not the result of haphazard policy, but of a plan that has been developed and that will be planned to produce profits; that the execution of that work must be carefully directed or the profits will disappear and that efficiency bears a direct ratio to the amount and quality of supervisory effort.

Unity—

A county school system to be efficient demands a high degree of centralized and purposeful effort. It is a well known fact that the strength of a chain is measured by its weakest link. It should be just as obvious that the effectiveness of an educational policy will be determined by its uniform application of its methods and procedure to every unit in the system. The success of a system cannot be measured by the accomplishments of a superior teacher, or group of teachers, in a single school plant in a county. The child in one corner of the county is entitled to the same help and the same reinforcement that is afforded to the child in the corner of the county. In our schools should be left to the individual teacher, the policy of each school would vary with individual ability of the teacher in charge, the degree of her training, and the standard that she has adopted for her ideal. The only way to bring about uniformity is to have the same policy in which the teacher works is to have a stronger supervisory system.

Wisconsin Idea—

The State of Wisconsin has established what is known as the Wisconsin Idea along several distinct lines. So far as rural schools are concerned, the principle of the Wisconsin Idea is the accomplishment of real results through the establishment of the Supervising Teacher law. Other states are following our lead. The growth in our rural school efficiency has been especially marked since the enactment of this law. In the majority of the counties, that it is almost negligible. So far as Outagamie County is concerned, the cost of supervising teachers is almost nothing. Their salary and expenses are paid from the state school fund. The school fund is made up from a certain per cent of fines collected by the courts, and the balance of the fund is divided among the majority of the counties, that it is almost negligible. visits. One of our measures that is most successful is the use of the six weeks' outline. We plan the work that an average teacher would give during a period of six weeks. Any photographed outlines carry these assignments to our teachers, and examinations at the end of the period show the teachers just how well the work has been done. As a result, we have no uncertainty as to whether a school is up to grade or not, and we save the most important thought of the year. For this period, we make it our business to find out why, and to send the teacher needed help.

It is our opinion that schools have not heretofore given enough attention to teaching children how to study. We have taken too much for granted, and we have assumed that the children in our schools could be told to study a lesson, and lo! in a few minutes they would come up and make a satisfactory recitation. All schools have done that. Every teacher gives many years to this. We have started a movement that requires teachers to work with the children to show them HOW TO STUDY. First, they are asked to go over a new lesson with the children with books open. The teacher has the children read a paragraph. Some one is asked to say the most important thought of the paragraph. If the pupils cannot find it, the teacher asks other questions that direct their reading to the important thought. Then the arguments that lead to that thought are arranged in logical order. After a few weeks of this kind of work at the beginning of the year, the teacher assigns the new lesson by putting on the board several questions that are to be answered when the pupils prepare their assignment. We start this work in the second grade—some teachers are doing some of it in simple form in the first grade—and every child in every school knows what is the result. Pupils are better able to read for information. They are learning to classify that information in a logical order so that they can get up and make a topical recitation. You will be pleased to see that the pupils are doing this work at the time of the time to visit. At last, we feel that we are really teaching the children how to help themselves.

Visitation Reports—

After each visit, a report is made to the school clerk covering the work of the day and the period six weeks. Any needed supplies, but we are also asking attention to the kind of work that we expect the teacher to be doing. This is done so that school officers may know what to look for when they visit the school. (Too few visit schools, by the way.) This report also informs the school officer of the time that the pupils wish to know what is being done. Our first reports carry the following paragraph:

"We are asking a great deal of our teachers this year in a way of more effective teaching, and we are setting a high standard for them to meet. In order to be rated as a good teacher, the following types of work must be in evidence:

Careful lesson assignments.

Study questions on the blackboards.

Rapid drill in the drill subjects.

Topical recitations.

Use of reference books, illustrations, etc.

Summarizing of the important points of a lesson by some pupil before class is dismissed.

Reading lessons on a page that the pupil can forget what he is reading, her work is not satisfactory."

As a result, it is the exceptional school that is not trying to teach children how to study effectively.

Reading Rate and Comprehension—

Studies made by leading teachers have shown that improvement in all subjects is dependent upon the reading ability of the children. It has been found that, as a rule, the rapid reader gets the most from the material that is read. That is, a slower reader requires so much time to get over a page that he has no time to think of anything but the words he is reading about. To remedy this, we have given all of the children reading tests. We have noted the reading rates of all pupils, and we have made suggestions to improve the rate so as to improve the ability to understand. A slow reader is not a good reader. We have found this thing. There was no other bird in the room, however, who knew—

When a pupil reads jerkily as indicated above, it means that he must have much drill on rapid pronunciation of words. This and the use of thought in reading are the two things that we are working on to get pupils to see at least one third of the line AT A GLANCE.

Why do I tell you this? Because we must have your help if we are going to put the idea across. You must know with what the teacher is doing, and you must be able to teach. All homes do more or less teaching and the home should adopt the method of the school or we are working at cross purposes.

Time of Supervising Teachers—

Studies made by leading teachers on this definite plan of supervision if the office did not have help. The most forward step in the educational history of Wisconsin was the enactment of the Supervising Teacher Law. The Supervising Teachers do not work in the office of the County Superintendent. They are out in the country, and at the time of the year, they are out in the country. They are out for direction, and must report to him; but this year they have spent Monday forenoons only in the office. At this time, plans for the week are discussed, and a supervisory program is outlined. These teachers, you state officers, they are out to see to it that the County Superintendent is in the office duties. They are field workers, accountable to the State Superintendent and they are paid entirely by the State.

Waste—

There is a time for economy. Economy does not always consist in the saving of money. So little may be done that money is wasted in not getting results. Money may be spent foolishly. The money spent by this county on education has not been wasted. A fairly high level of education has been reached, and it has been reached by the use of money and from the evils of loose government that have afflicted many European countries since the World War.

There is a waste in our education system that is serious. The teacher turnover is a real loss. More than one third of the teachers in this county are leaving each year. This is a loss each year. Another third change positions, so that they are new to their schools. Now it takes the best teacher two or three months to get a school working to its full capacity. Therefore, the great teacher turnover means an absolute waste of money on one side.

It is sometimes impossible to keep a teacher more than one year. Some should not be kept longer. Most of them would give their best service if kept in the same school year after year. Districts that have followed this policy will hear me out on this statement. It is true that the teacher turnover is a waste of money, but it is a waste of the efficiency of the teacher and the welfare of the children, and not change teachers for trivial reasons. No person is perfect. Each of us has some peculiarity that others may not like, but the only fair measure of worth is the quality of service that is rendered.

ACCIDENTS—

The appalling number of everyday accidents demands attention. To this situation, I have prepared, with the assistance of Judge Edgar V. Werner, a special course of study in the Prevention of Accidents. We are going to have a course of study in this subject. This year, Judge Werner rightly thinks that the proper way to treat this subject is to teach young people the responsibility that rests upon the individual for an act that he commits, or that he allows to take place. The complicated Law of Negligence is reduced to its simplest terms by Judge Werner, and I have prepared a series of study questions to help adapt it to the schoolroom. We must instruct our children in safety first measures if we are going to get anywhere in a program of accident prevention. I consider this movement one of the most important features of the year's work.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

When the monthly attendance reports come in from the various schools, I often wonder what parents are thinking about when they accept or welcome trivial excuses for keeping their children at home. Childhood is preparation time for the work of a man or woman. No parent would want his child to be idle. If he looked at the thing in this way,

The school year should be nine months long in every district, and every child of school age in each district should attend school for 180 days. The only excuse recognized by law for school absence is sickness. Our attendance record shows that the average child in this county attends school for 130 days. The average daily attendance in rural schools was 75 per cent, in state graded schools, 85 per cent, in grades below high school 78 per cent and in high schools 93 per cent.

Seventy six per cent performance shows a poor appreciation of the value of the school year. If parents will cooperate, it can be raised at least 15 per cent if parents will cooperate just a little. Perhaps 10 per cent of this absence was due to legitimate reasons. The rest of it comes through delay in entering school in the fall, trivial reasons such as going visiting, staying home when there is no company, or sending the youngsters this excuse this fall, helping with farm work. In this latter case, I am not referring to children 14 to 16 years of age, but to children of 8, 9, or 10. Granted that a child can be sent home this year from school, and that the parent will be thoughtful and thoughtful parent will not expect "step saving" as a reason for depriving a child of several days of school each month.

When a pupil is absent, he is holding back the rest of the class. He may be gone a day or a week, and when he returns, he will be a week or a month behind the class. The other pupils must mark time while the teacher works with him to help him catch up. Improper absence is a form of selfishness.

all of all high schools. Why?

STANDARD RURAL SCHOOLS.

There are two classes of rural schools in Wisconsin. They are designated in the law as First Class Rural Schools and Second Class Rural Schools. Outagamie County had 41 First Class schools last year. There are 118 rural schools in all. With a very slight effort, we could have one hundred First Class schools.

A First Class school must have a school year of nine months, buildings that meet state requirements as to heat, light, lighting, ventilation, equipment, playground apparatus, supplementary readers, supplies, interior decoration, the quality of teaching. The outbuildings must also comply with the requirements of the State Board of Health. Such schools receive special aid.

All schools that do not come up to the standard set by the State Superintendent are rated as second class schools. They all but have a dog highway. The county could be brought up to standard at very slight cost. Several old buildings have been demolished this past summer so that they could meet all requirements at a cost of less than one year's special state aid. The most serious requirement is to change the windows so that the light will come from the rear only, or from the rear and left side of the pupils as they are seated. In two cases this last summer, this change was made at a cost of less than $30. Surely, this is a modest investment to bring to the children the comfort of a new building.

Districts 2 and 4 Freedom, 2, 3, 6, 1, 3, and 2 St. Cleveo, and 30 Greenville have made this change within the past two years. Several others had done so before.

Beautiful new buildings have been erected in District 1, Freedom Creek, and 8 St. Joseph. These buildings are an inspiration to the pupils who attend them. They are a credit to the educational sentiment of the communities that erected them. They have aided in making Outagamie County outstanding in the state for its fine school buildings. The new buildings are on the numbered highways, but they are in the county, and they are inviting inspection.

The village of Combined Locks erected an imposing grade school last year, and it is now occupied by its owners, the village of Combined Locks. The village of Kimberly is now building a $30,000 school house that will prove a credit to that enterprising and rapidly growing community.

We are not advising the erection of new buildings at this time. All that we ask is a proper neighborhood pride in the care of the building now in use, comfortable, neat and attractive. The response of most communities has been gratifying indeed.

One of the greatest needs of the present time is the matter of sanitary outbuildings. We are advising the placing of these buildings in the schoolhouse, and many districts have already done this. The new buildings are including the disposal system in their building contract. Old buildings are placing sanitary chemical toilets in the cloakrooms. The cost of this improvement is no more, in most cases, than the cost of building outside toilets that meet requirements of the State Board of Health. Where this change has been made, the people have been well satisfied, and the health and morals of the young people have been properly cared for.

Playgrounds in the country are becoming the rule. Some districts have made their own apparatus. Others have purchased ready-made apparatus. In either case, a different tone is given the school, and the children are highly appreciative. We are asking for the following equipment for playgrounds: a teeter, a swing or a giant slide, an outdoor basketball or volley ball outfit, a sand box for the children, a croquet set, a baseball outfit, consisting of one or more bats and a large indoor baseball. Other equipment may be provided but this selection is cheapest, and it is very satisfactory.

When a school has provided the above essentials, they are entitled to make application for special state aid of $20 each year. We feel that when the State of Wisconsin has labeled schools as first or second class, a county like ours should have the majority of its schools in the first class.

We are insisting that teachers keep their schoolhouses in proper condition. Good school housekeeping is an index of a sign of a good teacher as good teaching. Both go together. Where the teacher has to do her own janitor work, she has a corps of willing assistants whenever she is tactful enough to enlist the help of the children. Children like to help the teacher. They like to do things that are useful. They like to do things that when they are permitted to do those things there is keen rivalry to see who may help keep the floor clean, clean the blackboards, keeps the library in proper condition and so on.

The State Department is instituting a library campaign this year. At one time, all of our school libraries were properly catalogued. In some cases, the library has been allowed to run down. A special effort will be made this year to have all book accounts for in the card catalog. To do this, the teachers will be given their own card catalogs. Some districts may have to be withdrawn if the books upon which the records were based are no longer in the library. New cards will have to be added. In some cases, extra card catalog case will have to be provided. Library corners are being encouraged. Reading clubs are being organized in every school and each pupil is to read the second grade must read and report on five or six books as part of their regular school work before they can be promoted to the next grade.

No. 134. Report of illegal tax committee read.
REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ILLEGAL TAXES
TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WIS.

Gentlemen:—
 Your Committee on Illegal Taxes to whom was referred Petition No. 66, of Paul Sprister on Certificate No. 286,
 Sale of 1921, amount $2.24, to report that same is illegal for the reason that said Paul Sprister paid the taxes on February 26, 1921 as per receipt on file.
 Your Committee therefore recommends that the amount of $2.24 principal, interest .56, total $2.80 be refunded to Outagamie County, the owner of said certificate, and that the amount thereof charged back to the Town of Grand Chute.
 Communication No. 25 of Mrs. Victor Saul, which was referred to this Committee report as follows:

The Claim 30 of Section 30, Township 23, Range 18, containing 63 acres, was allotted to John Quincy Adams, a fee simple patent having been issued to him. On June 20, 1924, John Quincy Adams, Sheriff of St. Louis County, Adams, who in turn owned 3.50 acres to Chauncy Adams, which left 34.50 acres in the name of Simon Adams, and 20 acres in the name of John Quincy Adams. The latter has paid the taxes for each year since 1920, and has been himself, except in the year 1920, on which the above tax sale is based, he has been most anxious to pay this tax, but cannot do so, as his acreage has been combined with that of Simon Adams, in the sale of the land. He has been unable to pay the taxes, and is obliged to pay taxes on the entire 54.50 acres with no means of recovering the excess taxes paid, from Simon Adams. A separate sale of these two tracts should be advertised, 34.50 acres for Simon Adams, and 20 acres for John Quincy Adams. A decision will adjust this matter, as it is an injustice to compel a man to pay taxes on land he does not own.

Some is illegal for the reason as above stated. On June 23, 1924, Mrs. Victor Sauer purchased 30 acres, 90 acres and 10 acres, for $100.00 principal, interest $30.60, in all a total of $98.61 from Outagamie County, therefore the amount of $98.61 principal, interest $2.90, total $101.41 should be refunded to Mrs. Victor Sauer and the balance of $1.00 to the County of Oneida. The Town of Oneida and Assessor of the Town of Oneida should be instructed to reassess this land for the year 1920 to the above parties separately.

FAIR DEMAND FOR LUMBER PRODUCTS

Current reports characterizing the demand for lumber as only fair, in large part due to the restrictions which weather conditions impose upon building operations, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. Other factors are the policy of retail lumber dealers, who will not stock up, but buy only as lumber is actually needed, and the growing conservatism which, beginning to be observed in other lines of trade, is still active wood, as well as that in strong position. While business with the East, North and middle West is hampered by seasonal conditions, that originating in the South and foreign markets, and with the railroads and oil fields, remains voluminous and makes it possible for the manufacturers to maintain their operations on a good scale and to hold prices firm. The few soft spots previously reported have not disappeared, nor have they become aggravated. They have been caused by the reappearance of small mills in the market, as well as by stock recently put in transit. The quantity of supplies from either of these two sources is not great, however, and the large mills, with their broken stocks and well filled order files, see no reason for expecting any material weakening of the market. They state that there is no impairment of the outlook for a good volume of business from all territories as spring approaches and outdoor building generally gets under way. The Douglas fir market has shown no consequential change. Curtailment of production has firmed up the market somewhat, but orders are not freely offered, and probably will not be until spring is a good deal nearer. Both the rail and domestic cargo markets are slow, but export trade is very good in comparison. Demand for hardwoods has slumped a good deal this month and the market for both northern and southern species appears weaker. Prices, stated that furniture and refrigerator interests have in many cases shut off buying, saying that while they have good order files they are receiving many requests to hold up shipments of their products. There has been on further pick-up in demand from automotive plants, while other consumers also seem imbued with a stronger conservatism. The mills meanwhile are operating steadily and are piling up some stock. Prices, however, are being quite well held, especially on northern woods and the source items of the southern list, and the manufacturers expect that an improvement as spring approaches will quickly eradicate any weakness that may exist.

No. 155. Resolution of finance committee regarding $400.00 Surety Bond for county depositor read.
TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WIS.
Gentlemen:—

Your committee on Finance to whom was referred the matter of designating a bank within the county to be used as a depository for Outagamie County Funds during the year 1925, beg leave to report as follows:
It was the opinion of the finance committee, that $100,000.00 should be distributed in the various banks in the county outside of the City of Appleton, and the balance of funds in the Appleton Bank paying the highest rate of interest on duty balances. After considerable deliberation on this subject, we found the present arrangement unsatisfactory to the local banks and that the county would be the loser on the amount of interest received by establishing more than one depository. Hence, it was decided by your finance committee to make the Citizens National Bank of Appleton, Wisconsin, the depository for the funds of this county for the year 1925, they being the highest bidders on the rate of interest to be paid.

It was further agreed to have the American Surety Bond Company of New York write a surety bond in the amount of $200,000.00 on our deposit. Therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that this county board support the finance committee in its decision above.

COOLIDGE WILL HELP BUSINESS, BABSON THINKS

Noted Financial Expert Has Confidence in Soundness of His Judgment

Babson Park, Florida—Roger W. Babson the statistician, is highly optimistic regarding the new administration and its effect on general business. He believes that President Coolidge is sound economically, and that the incoming administration should be a real factor in making better business during the next two years.

"It is true that conditions are a greater factor in making our Presidents than are Presidents in making conditions," says Mr. Babson. "On the other hand, Presidents can do much to help or hinder, to speed up or slow down activity. Politics are like a dam with a sluiceway built across the stream of business activity. One administration may close the sluiceway, and dam the water; while another political party may open the sluiceway and let the flood pass through. Although neither political party has increased or decreased by even a teaspoonful, the amount of water in the river, yet the amount flowing down the stream differs very decidedly according to the control of the sluiceway. Thus the conditions of the country differ very decidedly according to the motives and wisdom of the man in control of our government at Washington. I am convinced that the motives and wisdom of the man inaugurated next Wednesday are the highest type. Moreover, I say this without regard to parties or politics, because I voted for Wilson twice during the strenuous years of 1912 to 1916.

"One of the chief factors in upsetting business during the past few years has been the attempt of politicians to stimulate business, change wages, or reduce money rates by artificial and uneconomic methods. These politicians recommend stimulation for our business, labor, and financial difficulties when these difficulties are primarily due to the fact that they were already overstimulated. Take the farm situation, for instance. Everyone acquainted with the farm situation knows that the farmer has suffered unduly during the past few years and that we cannot have real prosperity any length of time unless his troubles are corrected. To have real prosperity in America, the farmers of America must be prosperous as they are the great basic producers of wealth. On the other hand, the difficulties of the farmer cannot be eliminated by giving the farmer more of such things as were primarily the cause of his difficulties. The same rule applies to the labor situation. What the wage earner really wants is to get more of the comforts and necessities of life for his week's labor, and to have better hours of work with better conditions under which to work. These aims are right and just.

"President Coolidge is anxious to help both the farmer and the wage earner. He, however, is wise enough to know that it does the wage earner no good to get more money in his pay envelope if this money does not buy as much in rent, clothes, and comforts as the former wage purchaser. The Federal Reserve Board has been subject to violent attacks by certain politicians. Doubtless some of these criticisms have been justified, but most of them have been unjustified. President Coolidge will do everything possible to keep business and prices on a normal and sane basis, aiming for a gradual improvement. He will not allow the Federal Reserve Bank to be used to stimulate what is already overstimulated, neither will he let the bears use it for selfish purposes.

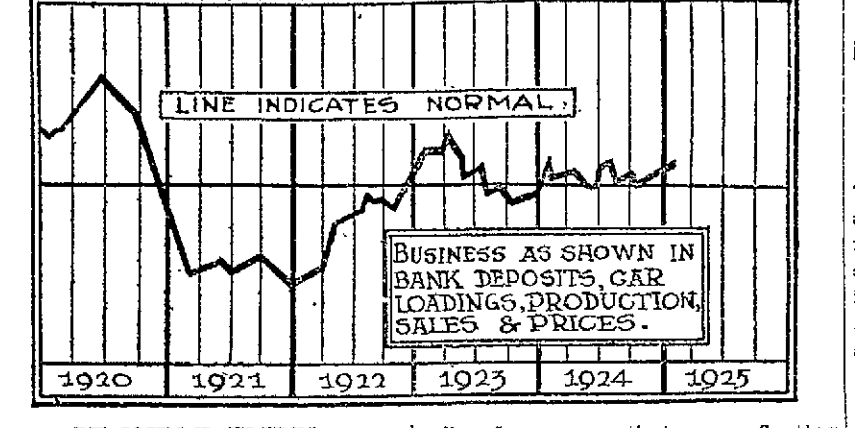

"Capital is notoriously timid. Someone has said that there is only one thing which is more easily frightened than a banker and that 'a pair of bankers.' It always has been so and always will be. Furthermore, whether we like it or not, capital is necessary for the construction of cities, the erection of factories, offices, and homes; the building of railways and steamships; and, in fact, for almost all development. When capital is timid, building ceases, development stops, unemployment is common and we have a general period of depression. When capital has confidence, the reverse happens;—building expands, factories start up, and general prosperity follows. Whether we are Republicans, Democrats, or real radicals, all must admit that we want capital to have confidence so that prosperity will follow. Capital has the confidence in President Coolidge and the man whom he himself selects. Capital believes that he is morally right, economically sound, and has a remarkable foresight. Many good people do not care for his party or for all of those who surround him; but those who know President Coolidge believe in him; in his honesty, his industry, his wisdom, and his fearlessness. He is right in his economic. These facts inspire confidence and this confidence lays the basis for distinctly better business conditions.

"In this connection it may be interesting to know what happened to the Babsonchart for the years following previous inaugurations. March 4, 1905 the Babsonchart stood at a normal when Roosevelt was inaugurated, and in the two years following, with a sound and harmonious administration, we had an almost continuous climb. On March 4, 1909, when Taft was inaugurated, a Republican president faced a Democratic House; the Babsonchart stood at 2 per cent above normal and the following two years witnessed a general decline of business. March 4, 1913 when Wilson was inaugurated, the Babsonchart registered 5 per cent above normal and the year immediately following showed a decline. On March 4, 1917, when Wilson was again inaugurated, this time with a solid backing, we were in the war boom and the Babsonchart was 14 per cent above normal and for the two years following business went on its reckless spree. In March, 1921 when Harding took office with a Republican Congress, the Babsonchart registered 23 per cent below normal, at the bottom of the depression, and in the years following conditions were improving and bringing us nearer normal. Now the Babsonchart stands at 5 per cent above normal, and present indications are that it will average higher rather than lower during the months ahead of us. This is why I feel optimistic about the inauguration next Wednesday."

Curve Of Business Still Continues To Move Upward
CHART OF GENERAL BUSINESS

BY JOHN T. FLINN
CHART OF GENERAL BUSINESS
New York—The general air of uncertainty about stocks, the sudden rise in the call money rate, the winding up of the present Congress with a growing sense of nervousness about several measures together with the intervention of a holiday all seemed to establish a pause in the business world during the week.

Assurances that the short session of Congress would end without embarrassing legislation of any sort are being borne out. Yet railroad people insist on being nervous over the Pullman surcharge bill which the Senate passed as a rider. The fact remains that business has little to complain of in the present Congress. And the railroads in particular have been left singularly free from regulation. Moreover there are so many signs against the probability of the Pullman surcharge passing that there is no reason for worry. And moreover it is not a matter of overmastering importance anyhow.

MONEY RATE RISES
The rise of the call money rate is due to temporary influences. Money has been withdrawn by interior banks for the end of the month operations. And this has resulted in some hasty readjustments of security loans.

However it is to be expected that the heavy demands which have been made upon our money sources for security operations on a gigantic scale and for foreign loans as well as numerous domestic issues would have some effect upon the money rates. Even these great demands have not seriously eaten into our credit supplies, but they do tend to increase the rate.

No one can escape the generally cheering effect of two things which are now becoming apparent: First, that dividends are improving and secondly that the statements of large corporations are showing a sounder relation between assets and liabilities. The reports of industrial and mercantile firms even where earnings have shown no improvement, reveal a healthier interior condition. Full turns of increased earnings for January are coming in and while in some instances they show increases in other slight decreases are noted as compared with last year. Nevertheless dividend payments are better both January and February, which means that the long term results of railroad operation have been better.

It is noted here that the talk about stops, unemployment is common and we have a general period of depression. When capital has confidence, the reverse happens;—building expands, factories start up, and general prosperity follows. Whether we are Republicans, Democrats, or real radicals, all must admit that we want capital to have confidence so that prosperity will follow. Capital has the confidence in President Coolidge and the man whom he himself selects. Capital believes that he is morally right, economically sound, and has a remarkable foresight. Many good people do not care for his party or for all of those who surround him; but those who know President Coolidge believe in him; in his honesty, his industry, his wisdom, and his fearlessness. He is right in his economic. These facts inspire confidence and this confidence lays the basis for distinctly better business conditions.

APPLETON GETS $6,664 FROM TELEPHONE COMPANY
A check for $6,664.54, representing Appleton's share of the utility tax paid by the Wisconsin Telephone company on the Appleton exchange, has just been received by Fred E. Bachman, city treasurer. Like other public utilities, the company pays a tax on its gross receipts. These amounted to $156,812.66 for the Appleton exchange for the year ending Dec. 31, 1924. The foregoing tax is a 5 per cent tax on 85 per cent of the gross receipts.

TRACTION COMPANY WILL ELIMINATE SMOKE NUISANCE

Huge Sum Is Being Spent Here to Give Public Best of Service

Uncle Samuel, who was reported on Thursday as girding himself for an attack on the billion dollar smoke nuisance in America, won't have any argument with the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. when it completes installation of its new smoke washing apparatus here. About $400,000 is being expended by the traction company to install a new type of furnaces in the plant here and at the same time eliminate the smoke of which a number of people have complained.

The traction company is installing elaborate equipment to permit burning pulverized fuel in the furnaces. A pulverizing plant is being erected to crush and pulverize the coal until it is as fine as flour and the coal dust is fed into the furnaces somewhat as gas is fed. It is regulated by appliances resembling valves in their operation. That method of burning coal eliminates the carbon from the smoke and gives an almost perfect combustion.

As an added precaution, smoke washers are to be installed in the new stack which will wash out all the dust and dirt which may be left in the smoke so that there will be nothing to be carried over the country for deposit on somebody's clean washing on a Monday morning.

The traction company has studied the smoke elimination problem for a long time and is convinced that the method now being installed will give the greatest satisfaction. It has passed all tests and is in use in the huge power plant at Lakeside, near Milwaukee.

This improvement is in line with the constant policy of the traction company to improve its service to the public. Many hundreds of thousands of dollars have been expended here to give the people of Appleton and surrounding territory a dependable electric and gas service and more will be spent as is required. One of the big projects for the immediate future is a big improvement at the gas plant where nearly a half million dollars will be spent.

WANT H. G. HAWN TO TEACH SPEAKING
Prominent New York Man Will Come Here for Week if Interest Is Shown

Organization of a week's class in public speaking taught by Henry Gales Hawn of New York, noted educator in oratory, is being considered by Appleton vocational school and some of the civic clubs here. The plan probably will take definite shape within the next few weeks.

Mr. Hawn seeks opportunity about once a year to leave his busy office in New York and travel to some community to give a few lectures on his favorite theme. He has told Appleton friends he would like to come here and will spend a week in instruction at a fee sufficient to cover his expenses.

The Enemy of Your Home
Coal oil lamps, lanterns and open flame lights are the enemy of your farm, your family and your home, for with their use the terrible danger of a disastrous fire is always present. Why not install Delco-Light, eliminating the danger of the open flame and giving in its place electricity—the brightest, safest and best light known.
